WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—President Roosevelt declared today the series of conferences he has been holding with business leaders have cleared the atmosphere and been most helpful.

Particularly, the president said he was glad to have been able to clear up certain false impressions members of the business advisory council brought to their sessions with him.

Some Problems Cleared Up
Among them he listed:

1.—A fear that the president was aiming at branch banking when he made his general observations last week concerning holding companies.

2.—The misapprehension that his remarks about abolition of holding companies might, for instance, apply to such an institution as the Pennsylvania railroad which, although an operating unit, functions through a dozen states. The president said he obviously had been talking about public utilities holding companies in particularly last week.

Pa. News noted a report passing over his desk today that 10,415 passenger cars were owned in New Castle in 1937 and that 1,044 commercial cars were owned here. Lawrence county's total was 17,238 passenger cars and 1,572 commercial cars. In 1935, two years ago, New Castle had but 6,604 passengers and 914 commercial cars.

Skating appears to have done a big comeback this winter season. With the many fine days and nights for skating, the crowds enjoying the sport are increasing steadily as the season advances.

There are forty men working on a WPA project about three miles out on the Butler road. The project is quarter of a mile back off the road, and is a quarry, from which Tullord stone is taken. This stone is for the improvement of the highway at New Bedford. It will be converted into three-inch stone and is being stockpiled at New Bedford, so that it is at hand, and the work can start when it starts in the spring. This work has been going for about two weeks.

Pa. News is informed there was wonderful sled-racing last evening at Cascade Park. Quite a crowd enjoyed themselves sledging down the hill from the merry-go-round to the lake. The evening was ideal for the pastime, the weather not being very cold, and there was no traffic danger.

Nine High Chinese
Officials Executed

(International News Service)
SHANGHAI, Jan. 21.—Nine high Chinese officials were executed and 16 others were dismissed from their posts under Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek today for failing to carry out their duties in defending China against Japan.

An official statement at Hankow, seat of the Chiang Kai-Shek government, stated that one army corps commander, one brigadier, one court marshal judge, two regimental commanders, three battalion commanders and one chief telegraph officer had been slain for neglect of their duties.

It added that one army corps commander, 13 divisional commanders, one battalion commander and one divisional chief of staff were dismissed on similar charges.

At the same time, Chinese officials have admitted that Japanese troops captured Hsienien, an important community along the Yangtze river, 15 miles downstream from Wuhan, where a fierce battle has been progressing.

In north China, Japanese officials moved toward further cooperation with the provisional Chinese government established at Peking under Nippon's auspices.

With the passenger list filled, and the hold packed with song and dancers the good ship Kiwanis sailed at the high tide of good humor Thursday night January 20 from the Cathedral pier. It was the third annual sailing on a cruise of good will and after taking a look at the crew we can understand the heavy passenger list. They are going to do it all over again tonight and for an evening and an evening we recommend the show highly.

"Anchors Aweigh" was the title of the show. The U. S. Naval Academy uses the same title for its song, but not to the same pulchritudinous advantage as the Kiwanians. If you are past thirty five you may be surprised (delightfully) at the trim lines of the sailors the Kiwanians have been able to recruit.

(International News Service)
LANSHING, Kan., Jan. 21.—Their prison break frustrated by the ingenious precaution of the warden, one convict was dead at the State Penitentiary here today, two others were seriously wounded and the remainder of the group of eight back in custody.

The convicts threw open all the light switches at the prison last night and padlocked them, ignorant of the fact that Warden Kirk Prather recently installed an emergency system.

So, instead of escaping in the darkness, the fleeing prisoners were easily shot down and rounded up by guards as the emergency lights went into action, revealing the fugitives clambering over a fence and cell building.

Cecil Thornburgh, 25, serving life sentence for murder, was fatally wounded.

Cleveland Goes
After Racketeers

(International News Service)
CLEVELAND, Jan. 21.—Cuyahoga county followed the lead of City Safety Director Elliot Ness and started a $20,000 drive against labor racketeering.

County commissioners voted the $20,000 to the prosecutor's office as a special fund for shakedown investigations. At the same time Ness declared further war on racketeering with the announcement that he would continue to investigate alleged shakedown practices by labor leaders.

A concerted city-county drive already has placed four men under indictment on blackmail charges. They were indicted after a long grand jury probe that followed a four-month investigation by Ness.

In addition two union leaders have received preliminary sentences on extortion charges and a third is on probation after conviction.

TOKYO, Jan. 21.—Organized boycotts against Japan for her military campaign in China already are proving highly effective and are becoming a source of deep concern to Nipponese business men, an International News Service canvas of the situation revealed today.

Reports constantly are received in Tokyo, from London and Washington regarding world-wide labor drives to make the boycott and other economic measures against Japan effective with the aim of forcing a halt in her conquest of China.

Many Cancellations
So serious has the situation here become that 14 leading exporting firms have revealed to International News Service that virtually their only business today is "handling cancellations" of orders.

Foreign bank branches here reported an unprecedented and widespread drop in export orders. Japanese financiers and business men expressed fears that the Germans and British may recapture the markets which they have lost to Japan in recent years as a result of the boycott movement.

Should this happen, they pointed out, Japan's internal industries

MADISON, Ind., Jan. 21.—A bicycle-automobile crash today had brought death to two Trimble county, Ky., school boys.

Aaron L. Wheeler, 11, died in King's Daughters hospital here of a skull fracture suffered in the accident which a few hours before was fatal to his companion, Gene Taylor, 9.

It was said the two boys were entering Kentucky highway 42 from a farm lane and were struck by an automobile driven by Hugh Martin, 23, of Oil City, Pa., who had been attending the University of Alabama. Martin was not held.

Japan Planning To Strike Again
Once She Has Finished With China
Is Warning Given By Knickerbocker

(Editor's Note: When Japan has finished with China, she will strike again and the victim may be America, England or Russia, H. R. Knickerbocker, the noted foreign correspondent of International News Service, reveals in the following article, fifth of a series of twelve. Knickerbocker has just returned to Paris after months in Shanghai and Nanking and after a 12,500 mile trip across Asia and Europe to report to the United States on "The Yellow Typhoon and Red Storm Warnings.")

PARIS, Jan. 21.—Japan will strike again. This is the first and last lesson that a visit to Tokyo teaches. However short the sojourn may be, where will she strike? After China, what?

Among differing schools of thought, General Shigeru Honjo, conqueror of Manchuria, put it this way in a memorandum which he passed up through his former minister of war, General Jiro Minami, now governor general of Korea, to his imperial Japanese majesty:

To Take Philippines?
"After we have conquered China, our empire will be so enriched by its natural resources that we can afford to increase our navy until it is strong enough to drive America to the east of Hawaii, leaving the Philippines in our hands. After America has been driven out of the far east, the English at Hongkong and Singapore will not be much trouble, for our navy can easily take these two places."

This memorandum, which I disinterred by accident has taken its place among a score of similar ones in the imperial archives. It deserves further consideration, as it appears to be little known. It must be an additional worry for his imperial majesty because he has constantly to deal with three schools of thought among his subjects.

One believes it would be best to strike first the Soviet Union, then England, then America. Another favors knocking out England first, then the Soviet Union, then Amer-

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—A speedy business recovery was predicted today by John D. Biggers, administrator of the unemployment census, and president of Libby-Owens-Ford Glass Company, of Toledo.

Appearing before the senate unemployment committee, Biggers said he expected the upturn to occur momentarily, but warned that too sharp a swing back might delay permanent economic stability.

Basing his optimistic prediction on the assumption that overstocked inventories have been rapidly depleted during the recession, Biggers said:

Sees Sharp Resumption
"I think this drop or adjustment has been so sharp that the inventories have about been depleted and that business operations will be resumed with pretty fair rapidity and that there will be a rather sharp resumption of business in general."

I think, however, that we have a real problem before us, and that problem is to see that the rebound, if helped by artificial stimulus, is not too sudden."

Biggers explained to Senator Byrnes (D) of South Carolina, chairman of the committee, that he was referring to the demands of previous witnesses that the government launch a large spending program as the quickest way to recover.

Cause Of Recession
Biggers said the business recession could be attributed to a num-

First Incident Of Piracy In

(International News Service)
MALTA, Jan. 21.—An unidentified submarine reportedly attacked a French destroyer near this Mediterranean island today.

First word received at Malta did not name the destroyer, but it was assumed she was one of the ships on the Anglo-French anti-piracy patrol.

This was the first instance of piracy reported in several weeks. It closely followed the capture of the American tanker Nantuxet, Chief of Spanish insurgents, charging that she was attempting to run Russian oil into Loyalist Spain, the Rebels escorted her to Palma, Majorca.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 21.—The shocking crime trail of Peter Anders, dug deep by robbery, kidnapping and murder, was bared here today by J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the G-men.

Hoover told the amazing story a few hours after he had directed the recovery of Anders' last victims, Charles S. Ross and James Alwood Gray from their shallow graves in a dugout near Spooner, Wisconsin.

Recover $30,000 More

At the same time, Hoover disclosed Anders had led the way to the roadside cache where he left $30,000 of the ransom paid in vain for the release of Ross before his last mad plunge with the remaining $20,000 blood money.

Anders, who killed his own accomplice, Gray, to keep the full $50,000 after they had slain the elderly Chicago businessman, perpetrated at least one other kidnapping beside four or more of bank robberies.

Hoover declared the other kidnap victims were John and Olive Borcia of Chicago, according to Hoover. They were abducted near their summer home in Lake Geneva last year and barely escaped the same fate which overtook Ross at the hands of the ruthless killer, he said.

"Feelers" Throughout State Show Considerable Support For Van Dyke

GUFFEY, HOWEVER, SEEMS TO HAVE EDGE

By TONY S. SMITH, International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Jan. 21.—A rising tide of opposition to the proposed gubernatorial candidacy of C. S. Sen. Joseph E. Guffey confronted Democratic organization state-makers today. Backed by Philadelphia leaders high in the councils of the party, a definite move to "stop Guffey" has spread throughout the commonwealth and is being reflected in the series of "feeler" conferences now being conducted by State Chairman David L. Lawrence.

Van Dyke Favored. Lawrence has been meeting with county chairmen and members of the state committee from eastern and central Pennsylvania during the past several days to obtain a cross section of political feeling among local leaders and the rank and file of the party.

And, it was learned, the sentiment in these meetings has been strongly in favor of Secretary of Highways Warren Van Dyke to the exclusion of Guffey. Despite obvious dissatisfaction within the Democratic ranks, however, Guffey still was believed to have the inside track for the organization's support in the May primary.

much the same fervor for filibusters as did his idol, the late Senator Huey P. (Kingfish) Long, of Louisiana. Although he lacked the bombastic color of his famous predecessor, Ellender, serving his first term, surprised colleagues with his ability to speak for long periods with little strain.

Long Winded. Determined, with his southern colleagues, that the anti-lynching bill "shall not pass," Ellender held the floor for six days, said to be a record, during which time he spoke on the bill 25 hours and 45 minutes. It was estimated that he filled 165 pages of the Congressional Record at a cost of $50 a page. Ellender received the benefit of short interruptions when he was allowed to yield the floor temporarily during the first four days of his speech, but a strict enforcement of filibuster rules did not permit him to leave the floor Wednesday and Thursday.

Nevertheless, leaders of all Japan's political parties pledged their support today to the government's program for conducting the war until the Chiang Kai-Shek regime in China is exterminated. This program will be presented to the parliament when it reconvenes tomorrow.

These promises were made after the last major diplomatic link between the two governments was broken with the departure of Chinese Ambassador Hsu Shi-Ying for Hankow. Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoe, on the eve of the diet's opening, announced that Japan "henceforth will have no further dealings with the Chinese nationalist government," but instead will seek to wipe out that regime.

The president was also expected to have something to say against what he has described in previous public statements as "high pressure" salesmanship. Recent statements of the chief executive have revealed his opposition to over-buying on the installment plan.

Edsel Ford, son of Henry Ford, was among those called into today's conference. Others included William S. Knudsen, president of General Motors, and K. T. Keller and V. T. Hutchinson, chief lieutenants of Walter P. Chrysler.

added and it was expected he would be rushed to trial at once. Although his confession asserted both Ross and Gray had been killed to put them out of their misery after they had been accidentally injured, Hoover characterized the slayings as "cold-blooded in the extreme."

Every effort, he said, will be made to keep the man from cheating the electric chair.

Hoover, still clad in rough hiking clothes and showing the strain of his long activity in the case, returned to the city with a story that Anders took him and a party of G-men to the backwoods wilderness in northwest Wisconsin where the bodies of Ross and Gray had been hidden.

Far Back In Underbrush. They were far back in the underbrush, miles from the nearest road, in the camouflaged hole where the two kidnapers had kept the ailing Ross for two weeks during the ransom negotiations.

Hoover said the spot had been cleverly concealed with leaves and branches and would not be noticed until it was too late to find it. Anders dug it last summer with the kidnaping in mind, he said.

Sunk deep in the walls were chains in which the aged prisoner had been kept. The subterranean room, about six feet square, was indescribably filthy. Hoover said, and so badly ventilated it was a wonder that Ross had not died before.

Ross, Hoover said, had first been taken to a similar dugout near Emily, Minn., after he was snatched from his car on the outskirts of Chicago, the night of September 25.

There the G-men found the original Chicago newspaper with which Ross was photographed by Anders to prove to the family he was still alive. They also found the negative of the picture, which Anders had developed with a portable kit.

Third Kidnaping? Later the victim was taken to the hideout in Wisconsin. Both of them, Hoover said, bore evidence Anders had planned a virtual kidnaping career. Why he had picked on the obscure, although wealthy Ross, however, the chief of the bureau of investigation refused to explain.

He did admit "we are looking into a third kidnaping," but declined to discuss any details save that it had nothing to do with the Lindbergh case.

The $30,000 ransom money recovered was found in a ditch in its original wrappings in a portable typewriter case in which it was delivered after Ross was kidnaped.

Fourteen thousand dollars more had been recovered when Anders was seized in Santa Anita, Cal., of the remainder, Hoover said.

"Anders was robbed of about $2,000 and the rest he spent."

According to the original plans Anders was to get the $30,000 he buried in the ditch and the other $20,000 was to go to Gray.

ber of government policies—sharp reduction of government spending during the latter part of 1932, a decreased foreign market, and undistributed profits tax and capital gains tax, gold sterilization, labor troubles and the announcement by the president that prices were too high.

He added that labor strikes had a particular influence in bringing about the business recession.

"There were so many strikes that manufacturers became afraid and they started building up huge inventories," he said. "And the result was that they were caught with these large inventories on their hands when the buying power went down."

"Fears" Another Cause. Biggers also blamed a good part of the recession of "fears" based on experiences during the depression of 1929.

"Some of the present fear of today reverts to 1929 when many people failed to readjust themselves and suffered the consequences," he said.

Biggers recommended a temporary federal agency to coordinate relief policies and reemployment programs, as he described relief conditions and unemployment.

Many manufacturers have been laying off employees because of the recession, he said, but added that in most cases they are trying to spread work to keep employees on the payroll.

He predicted that an average work week between 18 and 20 hours would keep an employee in the necessities of life, adding, however, that such a setup should be looked upon only as temporary and that manufacturers should strive to provide more hours at the average pay.

Biggers said he favored direct relief rather than relief-work during the recession.

"A greater number can be cared for more adequately, in less time, and with less expense with direct relief during times of stress," Biggers said.

Mrs. Weizel Funeral Time.

Funeral services for Mrs. A. C. Weizel, of Pittsburgh, who died in St. Petersburg, Fla., will be conducted at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon from the Behrman Mortuary, 2830 West Liberty avenue, Pittsburgh. Interment will be made in Saxonburg cemetery.

Mrs. Weizel had friends and relatives in New Castle. Her sister, Mrs. Hattie Fehrenbach of this city, who was with her in Florida, and Mr. Weizel, arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday.

E. C. Morrow Funeral.

The residence, 208 North Walnut street, was filled by relatives and friends Thursday afternoon when funeral services were conducted at two o'clock for the late Elmer C. Morrow, and there were many beautiful floral offerings as a further testimony of the high regard held for the deceased.

Dr. J. A. Cousins of the Croton avenue Methodist Episcopal church was the minister in charge.

Pallbearers were Milton Young, William P. Sankey, James White, Ralph Cook, Robert Huling, Clair Lutz, Ralph Shiner and Robert Young.

Deaths of the Day

James O'Connell Edgington, aged 76 years, died at his home, 337 East Park avenue, at about six o'clock Thursday evening. Although he had been ailing for the past year, his death was sudden and a shock to his family.

Mr. Edgington was born at Massillon, O. He is survived by his wife, Mary McClelland Edgington, and the following children: James, Daniel, Cordelia and William, of New Castle, and Mrs. Thomas J. Salors of Wadsworth, O. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. M. J. Whitson, of Cleveland, O.; two brothers, Charles and Frank Edgington, of New Castle, and the following grandchildren: Cella, James, Floyd, Kathryn Marie and Barbara Edgington, Gene Marie and James Salors.

The deceased, a well-known citizen with many friends, had been retired from business for the past 10 years. Prior to that he had owned and operated a meat market in Mahoningtown for 25 years.

The requiem mass will take place at nine o'clock Saturday morning in St. Mary's church and interment will be made in the parish cemetery.

Mrs. Amelia Ketzler Sippr.

Mrs. Amelia Ketzler Sippr, widow of Charles Sippr, who died Tuesday night at her home in Alliquippa, is to be buried in Greenwood cemetery, New Castle, at about 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, according to word received here.

The services for Mrs. Sippr, a former New Castle resident, are to take place at 2 o'clock Sunday in Alliquippa. She leaves a daughter and a granddaughter, of Alliquippa.

Mrs. Roselli's Funeral.

At 9 o'clock this morning a high mass of requiem for Mrs. Frances Roselli of 314 Division street was celebrated by Rev. S. F. Anusiewicz in St. Vitus church.

Pallbearers were Joseph Lamorell, Tony Simone, Angelo Eirillo, Frank Eirillo, James Cavano and Stanley Henzen. Interment was made in the church cemetery.

John Rapone

John Rapone, aged 62 years, of 13th street, West Pittsburgh, died at 1 a. m. today in the New Castle hospital after being in poor health for the past seven months.

Mr. Rapone was born in Italy in July, 1875, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Rapone. Since 1919 he had lived in West Pittsburgh, worked as a laborer and was a member of the Holy Cross church.

His wife, Frances Mangerella Rapone, the following children, Anthony of Butler, Andy of New Castle and Dora at home, four grandchildren, one sister in Italy and another sister in South America, survive.

Funeral mass will be celebrated at 9 o'clock Saturday morning in the Holy Cross church, West Pittsburgh, and interment will be made in St. Lucy's cemetery, Mahoningtown.

Mrs. Martha Hogg

Mrs. Martha Hogg, aged 76, widow of the late William P. Hogg, of 810 Wilmington avenue, expired in the Jameson Memorial hospital at 11:50 o'clock this morning.

Mrs. Hogg's death was the result of a stroke suffered about two weeks ago.

She leaves one son, Harry Hogg, of Enon Valley one sister, Mrs. Jessie E. Chain of New Castle, and two brothers, George W. Swisher of New Castle and Jay Swisher of Enon Valley.

The body has been removed to the Jos. B. Leyda mortuary, Highland Woods, where friends may call. The time and place of the funeral will be announced Saturday.

Moral prints in small designs, for shirts to wear with sports clothes, are given preference for resort wear.

PRESIDENT SAYS CONFERENCES HAVE CLEARED UP ISSUES

inconsistent by calling for increased prices in 1933 and later saying they were too high. Mr. Roosevelt said this was not a fair statement of the case because when he took office, prices were at rock bottom. His administration merely was trying, he said, to get them back somewhere to the 100-index level commonly used.

4.—The assertion that the administration was inconsistent in curtailing acreage on one hand and improving it on the other. The president said this was not true because his policy of soil erosion prevention improved land in some sections, while other land was being taken out of cultivation elsewhere striking a balance.

5.—One member of the council suggested there had not been sufficient cooperation on the administration's part in putting through a crop control bill, the president said. He told this man that at the request of congressional leaders, the administration did not draw a bill or have anything to do with it.

Quite helpful. It was "quite helpful" to him, he said, to have John L. Lewis and Philip Murray, CIO labor chiefs, sitting at the same table with Thomas W. Lamont, the Morgan partner, and Owen D. Young, head of General Electric. But he pointed out that representatives of credit, agriculture, transportation, etc., were not present.

He indicated in the future, without resorting to legislation, he would try to bring these groups together to reach a common ground of action from time to time. He said members of the business advisory council from their studies had been learning it wasn't all business, but that labor and transportation and Sometime next week, Mr. Roosevelt expects to meet with a group of small business men, about 400 or 450, hundred of whom have written in, asking to be heard. He said the group would be picked at random from the pile of letters.

Asked what constituted a small business man, the president thought a moment, smiled and replied that a small business man came just under a big business man.

Mr. Roosevelt said he probably would send his message to congress proposing a supplemental naval building program sometime next week.

Queried about the possibility of a anti-monopoly message, the president said it was not now in the picture, but had not been abandoned.

LINDNER CLASS HAS DINNER GATHERING

Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Dean on the Harlanburg road, members of the Lindner Bible class of the Highland U. P. church, enjoyed a special dinner party.

Covers were arranged for thirty guests. A most delicious menu was served at an early hour and afterwards a short business discussion was conducted. In the absence of the president, Henry Brennehan, Lloyd McCormick presided.

Prof. Lindner concluded this part of the program with an appropriate talk. A social time ensued, with music and other avenues of pastimes claiming attention.

SHOWER HONORS HAZEL BERGLAND

A bridge club, including some of the present and former teachers at Benjamin Franklin junior high school, honored Hazel Bergland, a bride-elect of this month, with a miscellaneous shower on Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Geraldine Turk, Maryland avenue. Mrs. C. A. Crowl was co-hostess.

Fred filled the evening hours with honors falling to Mrs. Joseph Weinschenk and Miss Margaret Barnes. A delicious lunch was served at the conclusion of play.

Miss Bergland, who received many lovely gifts, will become the bride of Alfred Owens on January 28.

M. S. S. Club
Dorothy Micoe will entertain the members of the M. S. S. club at her home, 602 Canyon street, this evening. The club met at the home of Norman Gemlinian on a recent evening. Miss Dolores Manzani of Los Angeles, Calif., was a special guest.

Mary Sansosti and Dorothy Micoe were the prize winners the usual two tables of 500 being played. The club token was received by Angelina Congilio. Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Sylvia Zanoni.

At another meeting, the girls celebrated their third anniversary, by motoring to Youngstown where they had dinner and enjoyed a theatre party. Special guests were Dolly Boya, Mary Gwin and Helen Neimi.

New Club Formed
Thursday evening a group of girls assembled in the Mt. Jackson home of Miss Alice Parrott, for the purpose of forming a club.

After much discussion, it was decided to be identified as the C. R. C. club. They plan to hold their meetings every two weeks. The time was spent informally, and Miss Parrott was named as chairman and treasurer of the organization. Miss Lillian Patterson was appointed as her assistant.

Lunch was served by the hostess afterwards, and upon adjourning they were invited to be guests of Mrs. Betty Bair, of Mt. Jackson, February 10.

ART CLUB PROGRAM AT THAYER RESIDENCE

Art club members were received in the home of Mrs. Harding Thayer, Hazlerod avenue, on Thursday afternoon at which time a most inspiring and educational program featured.

Before taking up the usual routine, the group paid a beautiful memorial to the late Mrs. W. J. Isaac, who was an active and much loved member of the organization.

Mrs. Donald Lusk, program chairman for the afternoon, introduced Mrs. J. A. McNeill, who gave in an efficient manner, a book review on the life of Van Ryn Rembrandt-Van Loon. Mrs. John Louden followed with some of his famous paintings and illustrated each fact that she stressed, with lantern slides.

Adding further interest locally, Mrs. E. L. Burton read a concise list of our own county artists and stated the type artist each was. She made particular mention of Edward Shields, who resides at 714 Blaine street, this city, an outstanding landscape artist. His two oil paintings entitled "The Narrows" and "McConnell's Mills" have been accepted and are being displayed in the third annual New Year exhibit of the Butler Art Institute, Youngstown, O.

Committee for 1938-39 were appointed during the short business period which preceded. Mrs. Irvine Balph, president, was in charge. Those named are as follows: Program, Mrs. John Louden, Mrs. Oscar Sheaffer and Mrs. E. C. Beahm; nominating, Mrs. T. A. Gilkey, Mrs. J. A. McNeill and Mrs. C. F. Hal-north.

Next meeting of Art club members will be on February 17, at the home of Mrs. Harry Gornley, Englewood avenue. The theme of this event will be "Valentines."

PROGRESSIVE BRIDGE CLUB HONORS BRIDE

At the meeting of the Progressive Bridge club members held Thursday evening, in the home of Mrs. Dent Shields, on East Washington street, Mrs. Charles Levine, nee Kathryn Nitsche, a bride of recent date, was honored at a shower. She received an array of many lovely gifts of a miscellaneous nature.

Cards filled in the remaining hours, with Mrs. Frank Schneider and Mrs. Wayne Sines winning the awards. Special guests sharing included the latter and Mrs. Carl Grootesch.

A delicious repast was served at a later hour and a short business period followed. It was decided to hold regular meetings on Wednesday instead of Thursday as has been the custom.

The next regular event will be with Mrs. Betty Kradel of Boyes avenue, Wednesday February 2.

Jane Green Entertains.

On Wednesday evening a new club that will be known as the R. O. N. O. club met at the guests of Jane Green on Oak street, who entertained informally in her home.

Cards were in play, the awards going to Dorothy Connor and Mary Margaret Flynn. The former, who was a special guest of the occasion, was taken into the organization as a new member during the business period.

Lunch was a later pleasure, the hostess being assisted by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Frank Christoffer. Seasonal appointments prevailed throughout in all details.

The next meeting will take place at the home of Mary Margaret Flynn on Butler avenue sometime in February, the date to be announced.

Missionary Society Meets.

Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock 30 members of the Women's Home Missionary society of the First Baptist church, were received in the home of Mrs. L. G. Nail, 408 Park avenue. Mrs. A. F. Kingsbury, Mrs. F. Fisher, Mrs. J. B. Elliott and Mrs. H. A. Houk were co-hostesses.

Mrs. J. C. Minor opened the meeting with devotionals after which the program was presented by Mrs. W. A. Hoffmaster and Mrs. L. B. Buchanan. Mrs. J. N. Kerr was welcomed into the society as a new member.

A luncheon dinner will feature the next meeting of the group at the Deaconess Home on February 17.

D. G. S. Club.

Members of the D. G. S. club were pleasantly entertained in a downtown tea room. Miss Wilma Flannery and Mary Bozul proved charming co-hostesses.

Cards and a discussion of various topics of the day formed the pastimes, prizes going to Mrs. Ray McKay, Mrs. Wilford Stull, Mrs. Dale Gibson and Mrs. Ben Wolfbrandt. A delicious luncheon was served during the course of the affair. Miss Winnie Lyss was a special guest. The group meets again in two weeks.

M. Y. A. B. Club

Miss Charlotte Bigley was a pleasing hostess to members of the M. Y. A. B. club on Monday evening. Bingo and other games were the diversions of the evening with prizes going to Catherine Mesall, Mary Galouka and Isabelle Crable. Later, a lunch was served by the hostess. She was honored with a handkerchief shower.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Crable, Spring street, on February 4.

"Fussy Four"

The "Fussy Four" club held their first meeting at the home of Mrs. Ralph Spigler, East street, recently. Cards were the evening's main diversion with prizes falling to Mrs. Spigler and Mrs. B. Travers. Lunch was served by Mrs. Robert Kuechler, the hostess mother-in-law, assisted by Miss Eleanor Spigler.

Mrs. Fred Fabian, 734 Court St., will entertain at the next meeting.

N. S. Club

N. S. club members were entertained on a recent evening, by Mrs. Dorothy Cobella, hostess. Bingo, conversation and sewing were the pastimes. Prizes fell to Mrs. Anna Galliano and Mrs. Philomena Cobella, while the club token was awarded to Mrs. N. Casella.

"CABINET OFFICERS" SUBJECT OF MEETING

Mrs. David Nesbit, Jr., opened her home on Leasure avenue to the members of the Junior Woman's club Thursday evening, at which time a lively discussion of the "Cabinet Officers" took place. Miss Gertrude Chapin, the president, was in charge of the meeting and Miss Marian Campbell was the program chairman.

Those who assisted Miss Campbell during the program were: Martha McGill, "The Life of President Roosevelt"; Helen Myer, "Vice President John Nance Garner"; Mabel Cochler, "Secretary of State Cordell Hull"; Barbara Schultz, "Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau"; Marian Campbell, "Secretary of War Harry Woodring"; May Dixon, "Attorney General Homer Cummings". Each discussion was well presented and proved interesting to the listeners.

The discussion of the cabinet members will continue at the next meeting of the Junior Women which will take place at the home of Marian Campbell, Moody avenue, on February 2.

EAST BROOK GARDEN CLUB NAMES SPEAKER

East Brook Garden club members will meet Tuesday evening, January 25, at the home of Mrs. Paul Wilson, East Brook, at 8:00 o'clock. Roll call will be answered with "Flowers of California." As guest speaker, they will have Mrs. H. H. Marlin. She will address the group on the subject, "Picking Flowers in Desert, Canyon and Valley."

In addition to the usual business routine, the installation of officers will take place.

This marks the first meeting on their 1938 calendar, and a discussion of activities for the remaining months will take place.

Sisters Circle

Election of officers took place at the first meeting of the Sisters Circle on Thursday at the home of Mrs. S. A. Mooney, Williams street.

Those elected were: president, Mrs. Joseph Bailey; secretary and treasurer, Ella Phillips.

"Mystery Sisters" were drawn and later, a visit was made to the home of Mrs. Ralph Sacripant, County Line street, a member who was ill and unable to attend. After returning to the Mooney home, delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Fred Sacripant, mother of the hostess, and Mrs. Anna Mooney were special guests.

Mrs. Frank Bailey, Temple avenue, will entertain the group in her home on the third Wednesday of February.

W. E. Club.

A handkerchief shower honored the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Harold Good at the meeting of the W. E. club Thursday evening. Mrs. Orville Michael, Frank avenue, was hostess to the group.

500 was in play with Mrs. Melissa McKusick, Mrs. Charles Rhinehart and Mrs. Clarence Hollis receiving the prizes. A tempting lunch was served by the hostess.

February 3 is the date for the next meeting which will take place at the home of Mrs. Ben Harland, Hazel street.

Friendly Sisters Club

The Friendly Sisters Quilting club met at the home of Mrs. Maud Coulter, Hamilton street, on Wednesday afternoon. The members enjoyed a period of quilting and had a business meeting. At the close the hostess served a delicious lunch assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Derwin Collingwood, and Mrs. Walter Park.

On February 16 the club will assemble in Mrs. J. B. Daugherty's home, Walter street.

Current Class Change

Mrs. Robert McKinney will be hostess to members of the Current Events class, in the Y. W. C. A., on Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, instead of at her residence as previously planned.

Junior C. D. of A.

There will be a meeting of the Junior C. D. of A. (troop) at 7:45 o'clock this evening in the home of Constance Flavin, Thorpe street.

Gilliland-Smith Wedding
Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Gilliland, of New Wilmington, announce the marriage of their daughter, Agnes Martha, to H. Russell Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Smith, New Wilmington, R. D. 1.

The couple were married Wednesday evening, January 19, in the study of the United Presbyterian parsonage at New Bedford. Rev. T. Matthew Gilliland, brother of the bride, was the officiant. Miss Kathryn Gilliland, sister of the bride, and Miss Louise Smith, sister of the groom, were witnesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith left immediately for Harrisburg where they will spend several days. Both are graduates of New Wilmington high school and for the past several years Mrs. Smith has been employed at the Globe Printing company, Inc., and William Werner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolf Werner, also of New Galilee.

The ceremony took place on December 31, 1937.

For the present, the couple have taken up residence at the home of his parents.

The Parent
Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

OBLIGES AUTHOR

I never have had the honor of meeting Mrs. Edith E. Read Mumford of England, but she and I have exchanged autographed copies of our books. When her latest book, "Understanding Our Children," was in galley proof, she called me from England that this proof was on the way, and that she hoped I would write an introduction to this book to be published by a firm operating in London, Toronto and New York, with special reference to American readers. After reading it I decided that I would be happy to do so, and so called her in reply. Since I wished it to be a courtesy to the English "neighbor" (of a Pennsylvania Dutchman) whose works I so admired, I accepted no pay for my services.

Below is the sincere introduction which appears in that book over my name:

"We who are engaged in parent-education in the United States of America have used the books written by Mrs. Edith E. Mumford for years, and both teachers and students are enthusiastic about them. "Understanding Our Children" her latest book will be as heavily welcomed in America as in the British Empire by parents, teachers, nurses, doctors, religious leaders, social workers, and especially by parent-educators.

Has Mastery Of Subject
The author of this excellent volume reveals a mastery of her subject and an ability to present it forcefully and attractively. Her familiarity with modern literature on psychology and education is apparent, and she has incorporated much from this literature in her book and has skillfully interpreted it. "Understanding Our Children" is a book enough to interest the most highly educated, and is simple enough to appeal to the average person.

"As in her other books, so in this one Mrs. Mumford draws home each salient point with carefully selected stories of real children. She seems to possess an almost uncanny insight into the child's mind and feelings.

"Understanding Our Children" is, therefore, the true title for this book. As one reads it, one gains increasing wisdom about children and their development, and with deepening understanding of the child, one gains increasing sympathy with him, and realizes the sacredness of child-personality.

"If there is one single chapter ever more illuminating than the rest, it is the one on 'The Creative Power of Imagination,' destined, I believe, to become a classic read in many languages. How much happier all the world might be if adults of every nation were to read and re-read 'Understanding Our Children'.

Incidentally a London firm has republished my 'The Modern Parent'.

HOW TO TEACH A WIFE
TO DRIVE

1. BE POLITE.

2. Remember that you're an automobile salesman and you are trying to sell the car to her.

3. Remind her that "Statistics show that women are better or safer automobile drivers than men."

4. Tell her that driving a car is simple. Much easier than raising a child, looking after a growing garden, running a house, managing a husband.

5. Be polite.

6. Don't try to explain the difference between the carburetor in her car and the carburetor in her car.

7. Remind her that the other fellow, in another car, is just as anxious to avoid hitting her as she is to avoid hitting him.

8. Emphasize that the car has brakes.

9. Recall what a dink you were when you learned to drive.

10. Tell her everything slowly, over and over again.

11. Be polite.

12. Don't let her quit when she has a little accident.

13. Remember again, that you are a salesman trying to sell her a car.

14. After she knows all the theory of the thing, you might try leaving home for a week. When you come (Continued On Page Five)

AND THE

Mud Puddles

THE "BLOOMING 'ONT"

Did you ever try to sleep near a camel? A goat is said to be a sweet smelling animal compared to a camel.

There is a chap, one Ben Moklar, who brought much loved by him, came from Tunis to the Paris International Exposition.

There he sold camel rides to those who desired the experience and had never and who never expected to visit the desert.

Like all desert folk, this Tunisian wished to live with his camel and to the consternation of his neighbors, hired an apartment large enough to house himself and friend camel.

The neighbors complained to the police. The smell was terrible, they said, but Ben stood by his camel.

He pleaded:

"My lease says I cannot have any cats, dogs or parrots in my apartment but it doesn't mention camels."

And the police have passed the buck or camel, if you will, on to the law courts.

Furthermore, the "blooming 'ont" remains in the apartment.

Down at Fort McHenry, near Baltimore, they have a collection of small arms, which is rated the finest in the world. Over in Spain and China they probably boast they have the largest collection of large arms.

A New York tavern keeper made the boast to his friends that he had never missed his daily swim in the waters off Brooklyn Beach for 40 years. He went in once too often, however, and the other day he was dragged out of the water dead. The shock was too much for him. If God had wanted man to swim about in cold water, he probably would have given him a thicker coat of fur.

Good Taste

Ree O S Patent Office

Dear Bliss Market: One of my closest friends has recently announced her engagement. Must I send her a gift?

Answer: An engagement gift is neither necessary nor expected, for probably within a few months you will be sending her a wedding present. If you feel that two such gifts will tax your purse, your good wishes in a letter or verbally will suffice.

However, very often inanimate friends of a prospective bride, as well as her family and that of her fiancé, give her some token of the announcement of her engagement.

If you care to be among these donors you should select something personal, such as linen for her new home or lingerie for her trousseau.

In some communities intimate friends of an engaged girl show their friendship for her by giving her "showers" at which all those invited shower her with articles for herself and her new home.

Good Taste Tests

1. Is it good form to send out engraved cards announcing an engagement?

2. Should a girl be congratulated upon her engagement?

3. Should a bride-to-be wear her engagement ring before formal announcement is made?

Answers

1. No.

2. No. The man should be congratulated. She should be given good wishes.

3. No. It should not be worn publicly until the day on which the announcement is made.

Anglo-American Trade Pact.
Proves Difficult To Negotiate.
Both Sides Need To Give And Take.By LESLIE EICHEL,
Central Press Columnist

WHAT HAS OCCURRED to the Anglo-American trade agreement? Evidently there is trouble. And well there may be—for the strongest competitors in world markets today are the manufacturers of Great Britain and the United States. Yet at the same time the two nations are the best customers of each other. At present there is a statement in negotiations.

As far back as Dec. 4 the New Statesman and Nation, of London, remarked, "A pact evidently already exists in substance, subject to modification, it may be in points of detail which prove particularly obnoxious to this or that 'vested interest'."

The last phrase hits the nail on the head. The negotiators seem fearful to make the tentative pact public for fear of the "vested interests" in each land.

The British weekly goes on: "The news is welcome. Even though the pig still discreetly hidden in the diplomatic poke turns out to be a somewhat diminutive porker it may be presumed that the contemplated agreement will represent a move, however cautious, in the direction of greater freedom of trade."

BRITAIN'S DESIRES
What does Britain desire?

"If employment in this country is to be maintained after the temporary closure of the government program has passed, its climax, it is vital to secure a larger export outlet for British manufacturers. Under the Hawley-Smoot tariff, four-fifths of our exports of manufactured goods are subject to tariff duties, and even American competitors are constrained to admit that the rates of duty are high."

AMERICA'S DESIRES
What does the United States desire?

"In the post-depression history of American tariff bargaining suggests that in negotiations vis-a-vis an individualized country with a consumer market of dimensions like those of the British all the emphasis will be laid to secure continuing advantages for American exports of agricultural products."

The Great agreements "trade agreements between the dominions and the mother country, favoring the dominions, but the American what farmer, pig raiser, fruit grower and lumberer have heard. Since 1929 British imports of American cereals, condensed milk and fruit have fallen enormously; our bacon and ham purchases from the United (Continued On Page Five)

What Noted People Say

WASHINGTON—Rep. Maury Maverick (D., Tex.), says this country needs a bigger air force, not more battleships.

"The admirals are dictating our foreign policy—not the state department. This big navy program is intended only to protect interests in the Orient and other places where we have no business to be."

NEW YORK—Mrs. Shepard Krech, president of the Maternity Center Association, warns that birth control among those best equipped for parenthood holds out the menace of a declining population.

"It is inconsistent that people should be assumed to limit their families because they are prosperous and yet be urged and taught to do so because they are poor."

WASHINGTON—George H. Houston of Philadelphia, president of Baldwin Locomotive Works, denounces the undistributed profits and capital gains taxes.

"The economy of the nation will break down if congress continues, through the profits and other taxes, the attempt to tell people how they shall spend their money."

CHICAGO—Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana says the nation's business men, its financiers, its consumers, its labor and farm leaders must work out our problems by sound and dispassionate thinking.

"What is done, our civilization, our government, will go the way of other great civilizations and governments of the past."

HOLLYWOOD—Erin O'Brien Moore defines greatness:

"People who really are great have big hearts. Those who think they are great have only big heads."

Mexico Imposes Tariff Boosts On America

By ROBERT G. NIXON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The American State Department today viewed with extreme concern the sudden imposition by President Cardenas, of Mexico, of tariffs of American imports ranging from 100 to 200 per cent.

The action was taken without prior notification to the United States and in the face of repeated promises by Cardenas that higher tariff barriers were not contemplated. In effect, the drastic tariff increases virtually embargo American goods.

Compared with the tariff increases was an order that American and British petroleum interests pay a 32 1/2 per cent increase to its holders.

Officially, state department officials explained extreme reluctance to comment on the surprise move. But the department's concern was evidenced by instructions to American ambassador Joseph Daniels for a thorough investigation. Daniels advised he was conferring with minister of finance Eduardo Suarez to determine the aims of the Mexican government and exactly how American interests will be affected.

NEW BIBLE GROUP IS FUNCTIONING AT 'Y'

Formation of The Churchmen club, a new Bible study group for Midgents of the Y. M. C. A., was announced today. With 28 members already enrolled, the club has organized on the plan of a city with Charles Fisher as mayor and Burr Rogers and Ed. Griffith as council members. Every Saturday at 11:15 a. m. the members meet to devote study to historical parts of the Bible.

No Snow, Skiers Are Kept Indoors

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 21.—Because of banks rather than snow banks, skiers in Western Pennsylvania today, approximately 200 members of the Pittsburgh Ski Club, were kept indoors. The weather prevented them from enjoying the slopes at Seven Springs, when covered with sufficient snowfall, are capable of being developed into first-rate skiing grounds, comparable to the best in the country.

Members of the club were told the slopes at Seven Springs, when covered with sufficient snowfall, are capable of being developed into first-rate skiing grounds, comparable to the best in the country.

Clothing Is Not Clue In Slayings

SHARON, Jan. 21.—Clothing found by Wade Walker at his Tam O'Shanter Golf Course near West Middlesex and turned over to Mahoning County Sheriff Ralph Elser through the local sub-station of State Motor Police has not been linked with Norman Smith, 21-year-old farm hand wanted for a triple slaying near North Lima, O., two weeks ago.

Today at Mahoning county jail Chief Jailer Otis Heldman said that investigation has revealed no evidence that Smith used and discarded the clothes. Victims in the triple slaying, in which Smith is wanted for questioning, were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Baumeister and the former's aged father, Theodore.

One of life's minor triumphs is teaching another human being anything successfully. One of life's minor illusions is that no husband can teach his wife to drive an automobile; and that no husband should attempt it. It is an illusion, because every husband can, and should, teach his wife to drive. If he doesn't he proves his timidity, and no husband should admit so openly that he's afraid of a little thing like that.

Further Plans For Washington Birthday Event

At the regular meeting of the Junior O. U. A. M. held Thursday evening, in the McGown hall, East Washington street, plans were advanced for the celebration of the birthday anniversary of George Washington.

Date set for this event, which will be in the form of a banquet, is February 23. Arrangements are being made to secure the Cathedral for the occasion.

A discussion on "Citizenship" was heard at the meeting, and was followed by a social time of round and square dancing. Wives of the members and friends were special guests. Luncheon was served to bring the meeting to a close.

Next regular meeting of the lodge will be held on February 3, in the McGown hall.

SISTER OF LOCAL RESIDENT IS DEAD

Mr. and Mrs. James Allen, of the New Wilmington road, recently received news of the death of the former's sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Allen Miley, aged 24 years, of Daytona Beach, Fla.

Mrs. Miley is survived by her husband, three children, her parents, three sisters and four brothers. Interment took place Monday in Daytona Beach.

States have dropped by 80 per cent, and our imports of soft wood have been halved. The trade has been diverted to Canada; and there has been a similar diversion from American to Empire sources of supply in the case of tin and tin products, and—minor degree—tobacco.

"Can Mr. Chamberlain agree to reductions in the British tariff on American agricultural products substantial enough to enable Mr. Roosevelt to quash opposition from his own industrialists toward more lenient treatment of imports of British manufacture? The odds against an agreement on an ambitious scale are heavy."

ONE VIEW

In conclusion, The New Statesman and Nation presents this view: "If the strike of capital in the United States and the consequent economic recession had not frustrated hopes of a great degree of scientific planning of agriculture, it might have been easier for President Roosevelt to cope with any temporary disturbances caused by an Anglo-American trade agreement on bold lines involving widespread reciprocal revision of tariff rates. With only a slight extension of A. A. schemes he could have made the adjustments possibly required. As it is, with the administration at Washington in gradual, albeit reluctant, retreat from the New Deal, optimism with regard to the scope of a trade pact between the U. S. A. and the British commonwealth is hard to cherish.

"The political implications of an agreement, as a counter-blast to the anti-Comintern front, have been loudly proclaimed. The phrases may mean something; but from the aspect of simple economic betterment via liberalized trade, it seems advisable not to expect too much."

If the wire clothesline becomes rusty, paint it with aluminum paint, advise Lia Price and Harriet Bonnet in "Maidcraft".

Tifereth Israel Teachers To Plan For Purim Program

The Sunday school teachers of Tifereth Israel, together with Rabbi Pinchos Katz, will have a special meeting Sunday afternoon at three o'clock in order to prepare plans for the "Purim Sudah" and program to be held March 20.

This Purim program will be presented by the Sunday school children, coached by the teachers. Miss June Frank, Miss Ravina Simon, Miss Rebelle Waldman and Miss Sylvia Sait. In addition there will be musical numbers and entertainment.

WAITRESSES ARE MUCH IN DEMAND

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 21.—Scarcity of waitresses who are attractive as well as experienced, is one of the problems facing the Western Pennsylvania Restaurant association. An experienced waitress has little difficulty obtaining a job in Pittsburgh, according to association financial Secretary Grace Donovan. She said also that the association has received many complaints about shortage of trained girls.

JOLLY TWELVE CLUB GUESTS THURSDAY

WHYLE-AWAY BRIDGE CLUB ENTERTAINED

Most enjoyable was the meeting of the Jolly Twelve club members held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Joseph Perkins, on South Mill street.

The social hours were spent in playing cards, with Mrs. George Jones and Mrs. Edward Barlett capturing the prizes. Mrs. Rita Lewis was a special guest.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess at a suitable time. The last sister-in-law, Mrs. Albert Perkins, was present. The dining room table was nicely appointed in the festive tones.

On February 3, the club will be received at the home of Mrs. Albert Perkins, Round street, for a similar party.

M. N. O. Club

Mrs. Harold Aker and Mrs. William Kennedy were showered with gifts Thursday evening when the latter was hostess to the members of the M. N. O. club in her home on Pine street.

The early evening hours were spent in playing cards with Mrs. Ralph McGee and Mrs. Aiken winning the high awards. Mrs. Aiken also received the traveling trophy. Later, the members were invited to the dining room where delicious refreshments were served, the hostess being assisted at serving by her sister, Mary Katherine Fee.

Mrs. Rose McGee, Croton avenue, will entertain the members on February 10.

Mrs. Mastrangelo, Hostess

Members of the T. I. club were entertained Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. John Mastrangelo, 1029 South Mill street, Thursday evening.

Cards were in play with Mrs. Louis Gasper and Helen Tuscano winning the prizes. The club token was carried off by Babe Macarella. Lunch followed, the hostess having as aid, Mrs. Charles Richards.

Plans were made for a Valentine party, and their next regular session will be held in two weeks with Mrs. Charles Richards of East Division street.

Sawalla Club

Honoring the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Harry Shaffer, members of the Sawalla club showered her with an array of lovely handkerchiefs at their meeting Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Norman McCracken, Ridge avenue.

Two tables of bridge were in play during the evening and Mrs. Shaffer and Mrs. George Campbell received the high score prizes. The hostess served delicious refreshments.

Mrs. Shaffer will receive the group in her home on Highland avenue on February 3.

Quilling Party

Section 1 of the First Baptist church, held an all day quilling party at the home of Mrs. Gilbert James of John street.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA MEETING ON TUESDAY

Alpha Gamma Delta members will meet Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Ray J. Robinson, 22 Grant street, for their regular monthly event.

The usual business period will be conducted and following, a social time with bridge contests, will fill in the remaining hours.

L. A. B. Club

Mrs. John Sweet was a pleasing hostess to members of the L. A. B. club in her home, Highland avenue, Thursday evening. After the business period, bingo was played with Mrs. James Grove and Mrs. Floyd Cunningham winning the prizes.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Anna McClintock. Appointments were carried out in the Valentine motif. Mrs. Harry Reynolds was a special guest.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. McClintock, Park avenue, on February 3.

O. F. T. Club

Mrs. Percy White received the members of the O. F. T. club in her home on Wilmington avenue Thursday evening.

Five hundred provided the evening's pastime with prizes being awarded to Mrs. L. L. Eardley, Mrs. Kenneth Calderwood and Mrs. William Bowen. Mrs. George Tenor, a special guest, received a guest prize and Mrs. Eardley received the door prize. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess, aided by Mrs. Thomas Palmer.

The next meeting will be February 3 at the home of Mrs. Eardley, 1026 Beckford street.

Saymore Club

Card games, conversation and other pastimes, were enjoyed by Saymore Club members Thursday evening, when they met at the home of Mrs. Karl Ketterer, Hazel avenue, Ellwood City, Pa.

Mrs. Kenneth Irwin was winner of the prize for holding honors. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess, who was aided by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Kenneth Irwin.

Mrs. Joan Untch, Jr., East Washington street, will entertain at their next gathering, February 4, which will be in the nature of a Valentine party.

W. A. G. Club

GIRL SCOUTS

TROOP 4

The Girl Scouts of Troop 4 met recently in the Rose avenue school. The meeting opened with a folk dance followed by patrol corners.

Miss Jenkins taught the tenderfoot and second class girls while Dorothy Frey taught the first class girls. Miss Jenkins passed several girls in photography and Miss Frey passed several in nature study.

Taps and patrol corners closed the meeting.

Scribe, Evelyn Gee.

TROOP 13

The Girl Scouts of Troop 13 held their regular meeting on January 19. The girls opened their meeting by going to patrol corners where the patrol leaders collected the dues.

Later, the girls went to the different interest groups, where Shirley Loy and Delores Knobel passed their sewing examinations.

During court of honor, plans were discussed for a mothers tea. The next meeting will be January 26 at seven o'clock.

Scribe, Joan Baldauf.

TROOP 11

The girls of the Sakakaweg troop held their weekly meeting Monday afternoon. The meeting opened with patrol corners and tests in tenderfoot requirements were conducted by Lieutenant Book and Captain Carwright. A period of lively games followed.

Plans for an investiture service, to be held February 21, were discussed. Parts in the puppet show and chorus were distributed. An enjoyable quarter hour of Girl Scout songs and rounds was the next feature.

After a court of honor, the meeting closed with benediction and taps. Scribe, Carolyn Raab.

TROOP 18

Troop 18 held its regular meeting on Wednesday, January 19, at Oira Hall. The meeting opened with a game followed by patrol corners. After the dues were collected and attendance checked, interest groups were held.

Miss Staudenmann taught nature study while Miss Wender taught the study of the compass. A game followed by the song, "Hickory, Dickory, Do," closed the meeting. Taps were sung and a short court of honor held later. Scribe, Anne Tice.

New Highway Is Proposed

Meeting At Beaver Falls On February 5 To Consider
Plan

Sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce of New Castle and the Beaver Falls Chamber of Commerce, a joint meeting will be held in the Broadhead Hotel, Beaver Falls, Saturday night, February 5, to develop plans for the proposed new highway to Pittsburgh.

Good roads advocates from Allegheny, Beaver and Lawrence counties will be present at the meeting which will be held after a dinner at six o'clock. Attorney Robert L. Wallace of New Castle will be the chairman of the meeting.

The proposal is to build the road known as the Old Pittsburgh Road, which starts at East New Castle, through Ellwood City and on through Fomell, striking the Perry Highway at Wexford.

Proponents of the road argue that it would be a direct route to Pittsburgh, would relieve traffic on the other roads and benefit a district not now served by a concrete road.

Ten New Cases Of Contagion Here

Becomes Queen Of Egypt

QUEEN FARIDA

For the second time in nearly 2,000 years Egypt once more will be under the rule of a queen when slender, dark-eyed 17-year-old Sasi Naz Zulficar ascends the throne of Egypt to sit beside her husband and king, Farouk I. The young girl who will reign as Queen Farida is unlike Queen Cleopatra VI, regarded as the most glamorous woman in history. Egypt has had only one queen since Cleopatra's suicide, in 30 B. C. Farouk's mother who ascended the throne alongside the late King Fuad when he was proclaimed king in 1922.

KIWANIS SHOW MAKES DECIDED HIT ON FIRST PRESENTATION HERE

skills, totally unrelated one to the other but combining to make an hour's amusement. The second half was a musical, titled "In a Garden in Heidelberg" with a lot of color, music and stepping.

The first half opens with an ensemble number that includes the crew, the tourists and the rest of the cast. Not a bad opening either for the color of it, the melody of it, and the young ladies hit the mark in the eye. Scene two was a comedy number between Arnold Fugly and Captain Marvin. Scene three has Wendell Morrison singing to Barbara Yoho (very nicely too) with a group of old timers in the last half doing a tramp dance in a park.

Scene four was a dance duo with Mary Elizabeth Suber and Louise Lemley doing "Chained Feet." Nothing chain about those feet. Scene five was a comedy skit "The Adjustment" with Helen Messner Tresser, Orville Potter, Howard Warnock and Jack Kearns in a tongue twisting bit of a thing that would fit Beatrice Lillie.

Scene six presented Nellie Brady and her Manhattan Tap Tappers. For our money Nellie Brady is good any time and especially last night in both halves of the show. Scene seven was a burlesque on a ladies bridge game with Robert Hoose, John Hodge, Dudley Arnold and Amli Lelenko doing the burlesquing. Scene eight was a pretty number, "In a Paris Shop Window." The act was well dressed and well presented.

Scene nine was a show stopper with Billie E. Glenn and Amli Lelenko doing a bawdy dance. The two youngsters took several curtain calls. After Mister Lelenko showed the customers a new angle of his versatility, in this number, with more of it in the second half. He did practically everything but shoe a horse on the stage. Scenes ten, eleven and twelve were comedy and musical numbers that closed the half with plenty of snap.

The minstrel presented as the second half combined the old time burnt cork humor with some more modern songs and costumes. Most of the dancers of the first half repeated in the minstrel half with the six Montanary sisters doing a bit that was clever.

The net proceeds of the show will go to the underprivileged work of the Kiwanis Club. No matter what the ultimate destination of the profits were the show would still be a good one. If you missed the opening Thursday night you can get the closing tonight. There are still some seats left for this very entertaining two hours presented by the Kiwanians.

The program presented was as follows:

Act I

Scene I. "All Aboard."
The captain of the good ship Kiwanis—Ed. Marvin.

The tourists—Jean Rice, Jane Rice, Eleanor Emery, Helen Glitch, Dick Crumer, George Ringier, Walter Norris, Bill Myler, Martha McCloskey, Donald Jones, Ruth Green, Doris Rodgers, Eddie Palumbo, Ida Rashid, Lucilla Casaccia, Hazel Atlas, Stella Cramer, Cleora Wigton, Vera Sweet.

The cabin boys—Ruth Collingwood, Esther Schneider, Eleanor Johnson, Ruth Miller, Virginia Frederick and Pat Chapman.

The saloonettes—Betty Boalich, Jean Dunkerley, Marian Shaffer, Eileen Weiker, Dolores Owen, Helen Humme, Christine DeSignor, Dorothy Dunn.

The sailors—Virginia Flout, Marjorie Patterson, Dorothy Ward, Thelma Morgan, Dorothy Donahay.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Roosevelt Too Kaleidoscopic

Even Supporters Are Confused About President's Methods Of Approach

BOTH SIDES ARE QUITE PUZZLED

Central Press Washington Bureau 602 Times-Herald Bldg. By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Columnist.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Even some of President Roosevelt's most devoted adherents confidentially admit that the White House tenant seems to them rather too kaleidoscopic for the country's economic welfare.

They express the utmost confidence in his general objective, but in approaching it, they confess that his apparent zig-zag and zag follow one another so rapidly as to be confusing—confusing to his own supporters. And, if confusing to them, how much more confusing must they be to those who are more or less doubtful of his whole program?

Neither does he explain his changes from zig to zag and vice versa. He simply announces these changes, without accounting for them.

If all this is puzzling to politicians, who are accustomed to partisan zigging and zagging, how much more disorganizing must it be to non-partisan business, which above everything, yearns for certainty.

ONE INSTANCE

Speaking only of lately: We started in on a recession. The administration gave evidence of a desire to counteract it. Business was encouraged.

Then out came Assistant Attorney General Robert H. Jackson, with a speech "panning" business to a face-dreary, giving business still worse Jesse.

It seemed impossible that these broadcasts could have been made without White House endorsement. Business was scared a-plenty.

Yet, immediately afterward, President Roosevelt sent to congress a message couched in decidedly conciliatory language toward the American business world. The presidential Jackson day talk was similarly placatory.

THEN— Business began to feel better. Jackson and Iches were left out on a limb, but who cared for them? —if the executive mansion did not back them.

It furthermore was proclaimed that the president was about to consult with a delegation representing capital and labor alike, inclusive of such leaders as Owen D. Young and John L. Lewis—to bring the two elements together and make everything lovely. It looked good.

But a few minutes before the Young-Lewis visitors were admitted President Roosevelt had a "press conference." At this conference President Roosevelt declared undying war against "holding companies"—business pets to the unimpeachable degree, but correspondingly loathed by all 100 per cent liberals.

Naturally the Young-Lewis chat was discounted in advance by the preceding press conference.

TOO FAST? President Roosevelt, coming into office, forecast that he would try a series of experiments.

If an experiment did not work, he said, he would try another one. They come too fast, some New Dealers contend—not to mention anti-New Dealers.

County Grange Group Will Hear Officers' Plans On February 2

For the purpose of outlining Lawrence County Pomona grange activities for the coming year, officers of the Pomona organization met with Pomona Master W. Sharp Fullerton at the Fullerton home, near Mt. Jackson, this week.

They plan to lay the work discussed before Pomona's regular general meeting at Mahoning Valley grange hall on February 2.

Husbands and wives of the Pomona officers were special guests at the Wednesday night gathering. Mrs. Fullerton and daughter Alice, served the group lunch at the close of the business meeting.

Offer Reward For Parts Of Airplane In Montana Hills

(International News Service) BOZEMAN, Mont., Jan. 21.—A $50 reward for each of the missing parts of the wrecked northwest airlines plane led to the renewal Thursday of the search in the Bridger mountains 14 miles north-east of here, where the liner crashed January 10 with the loss of 10 lives.

Announcement of the reward by George C. Gardner, Western divisional manager of NWA, highlighted Wednesday's session of the department of air commerce investigation into the tragedy.

MILLBURN

BIRTHDAY PARTY

George Masters pleasantly entertained on Thursday evening, honoring Mrs. Masters' birthday.

Cards and a delicious were features of the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Neal made high scores in cards.

MILLBURN GRANGE

A question box, which was well responded to by those present, was an interesting part of the literary program at the last meeting of Millburn Grange and was supplemented by readings by several of the members. Coffee and sandwiches were served by the committee on refreshments, Mrs. Laura Mayne and Mrs. Blanche Drenth.

The juveniles entertained six of the older grangers with a "chili" supper.

COMMITTEE ENTERTAINED

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Patterson entertained the community oyster supper committee at an oyster supper. At this time, plans were made for the annual supper of Mt. Union and Mill Run school districts to be held at Millburn Grange hall on Friday evening, February 4. All present and former patrons of the two districts have been invited to attend.

The committee is composed of the following: Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Jenkins, Walter Clumfelter, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Holden and S. O. Drake.

"Trust Camay to give you a lovely Bride Complexion"

SAYS THIS BEAUTIFUL MARYLAND BRIDE

It's glorious to have—it's grand to see—such exhilarating good looks as are Dorothy Sullivan's. Bewitching hazel eyes, a smile like sunshine, a fresh-as-morning complexion are hers. And yours is the good luck to get a behind-the-scenes beauty tip from this lovely bride. "What every girl should know," says she, "is how Camay can help one's complexion."

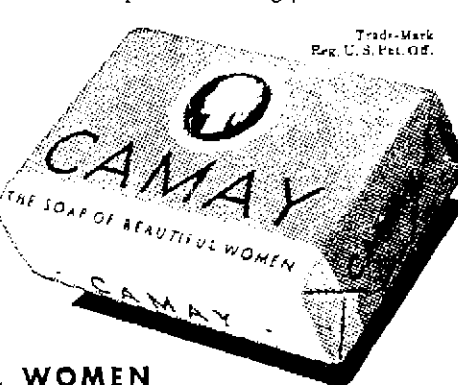

Are you, too, as wise as this young bride? For complexions are so important. And just simple Camay can help you to have a skin that's fresh, smooth, radiant. That's how modern girls do it—with Camay!

Just try this bland beauty soap that cleanses so thoroughly, ridding the face of all dust and grime. Then watch for the soft glow, the "alive" look that Camay's rich, creamy lather brings to your face. That's proof your skin is getting the gentle, stimulating care it needs for fresh good looks.

And Camay's so mild—mild as Nature in her gentlest mood! Time after time, in tests for mildness against other leading soaps, on every type of skin, Camay—the real beauty soap—was definitely, provably, milder.

Begin today to care for your skin with Camay. Order half a dozen cakes from your dealer—its price is amazingly low.

Judge W. Walter Braham returned to the Lawrence county court on Thursday morning and held a short session of motion and petition court. Judge Braham was asked to assist in Butler county for the first three days of this week.

When the urge to merge hits folks there is only one cure for it, marriage and a colored couple from Pittsburgh waited until the required time before the knot was tied. They appeared for their license application. At the end of the three-day period they were back bright and early, and with them a minister.

They didn't wait to get back to the bride's home or even inside a building. The couple crawled into the front seat of the car, the minister stood up alongside the car and there in Court street they were made man and wife.

Charles C. Couch and his wife, Evelyn Couch, have entered suit in the office of Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts John A. Edgar, against Harold E. Armstrong for $10,000 damages arising out of an automobile accident on March 13, 1937, at the corner of North and North Mercer streets in New Castle.

Mrs. Couch was riding in the automobile of Jean Carrier when the car was struck by that of Armstrong, it is claimed. Mrs. Couch received a broken clavicle, bruises and sprains. Mrs. Couch asks $7,000 and Mr. Couch $3,000.

Happenings And Items Of Interest At Big Tin Plate Plants Here.

Why the Mechanical Department is important in the manufacture of tin plate. By Millwright Dept. C. R. Brenner, Foreman.

In manufacturing industries as in home life, the mechanical department is important. It is the department that takes the raw material and turns it into the finished product. When the director calls for action, it is the mechanical department that is called upon to do the work. It is the department that is responsible for the production of the finished product. It is the department that is responsible for the production of the finished product.

In both cases, each machine must be timed and each part must be ready to take its place with the others. In the case of the mechanical department, the machines are the tools of the trade. They are the tools that are used to produce the finished product. They are the tools that are used to produce the finished product.

If you have visited a tin mill you probably saw the first operation in making tin plate. The hot mill department, where a series of mills are rolling the bars into sheets of various gauges, weights, thickness and sizes. A "mill" may appear to be a very crude piece of equipment because of its size, consisting of two heavy rollers, weighing 40,000 pounds each, between which two rolls of burning, which weigh 10,000 pounds each, pass. The rolls are driven by a straight line from 22 to 24 feet apart in the hot mill building and are performing their part in the show.

After performing for a week or 40 mills are measured for height, taken apart, a record kept of each bearing surface on each roll which goes to the hospital or shop for treatment or machining, made ready for the next scene or in other words, on location for production a week later when they are again lined up for within 1-64 of an inch, coupled to the engine and ready for the director's call and then after the weekend rest period, again behind the scenes are the specialists ready in case of an emergency.

No matter how carefully the inspections are made, there is always a possibility of some sort of trouble developing which must be corrected before production can continue and as the make-up of these performers or the mechanical equipment must be maintained, such as tempering of the rolls, roll necks, furnaces and the steel being worked, it is obvious that first-aid must be administered as promptly as possible to avoid a sick product and a total collapse of the director.

Thus the show goes on, not producing a form of past-time but supplying the public with a clean, sterilized container from which we get the proper kinds of foods, in and out of season to help us to keep well as the many other uses of tin plate. We in the mechanical department agree that in the movies the most interesting part of the production is in front of the scenes, and this may be a safe way to spend our leisure time, but here in this plant we men in this department are more interested in what goes on behind the scenes—the performance of the equipment and performing our duties in a safe manner. Many men in this group have perfect safety records dating back many years.

GETTING ACQUAINTED WITH STEEL

Ask the average man what he knows about automobiles and he will tell you plenty. He knows in a car, probably owns one, and is familiar with current improvements in automobile design and construction. Then ask him what he knows about steel. He is likely to hesitate before answering. He buys steel in the form of many useful manufactured products but he does not purchase steel directly from the mills. He knows in a general way that steel making is a large-scale operation and he may have vague ideas about "blast furnaces," "pig iron"

Night Sessions Of Senate To Force Action On Bill

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—Night sessions of the senate to force action on the anti-lynching bill will begin Monday, Democratic Leader Barkley of Kentucky announced today as the filibuster against the measure went into its 15th day.

Emphatic warning was given to the senate by Barkley that the anti-lynching bill must be disposed of shortly in order that other legislation, held up by the filibuster, may be considered.

Barkley's announcement that on Monday the senate would convene at 11 a. m., an hour earlier than usual, and continue in session well into the night, immediately evoked a cry from Senator Tom Connally (D) of Texas, foe of the bill, that an effort was being made "to ram this bill down our throats."

Same Political Office Held By Family 84 Years

(International News Service) DANVILLE, Ky.—John B. Nichols began his 44th year this week as clerk of Boyle county, and observed the 84th year that the Nichols family has held the same elective public office.

It's a long story from the Nichols' point of view, but boiled down it goes something like this:

The fiscal court appointed Thomas Nichols, uncle of the present clerk, to the office when Boyle county was organized in 1842. In 1844, after two years' "interim hip" under a fiscal judge, the uncle took office, serving until 1851. Until 1852 two other men, not in the Nichols family, held the office.

Father Took Part In 1862 In 1862 John B. Nichols, father of the present county official, took the office, and served until 1876. In that year Reed S. Nichols, brother of the present clerk, was sworn in serving until May, 1895, when he was succeeded by John B. Nichols, the present officeholder.

The present clerk was re-elected to the post without opposition in the 1937 election.

Nichols' relatives set a record in nearby Washington county by holding the county clerkship for nearly 80 years. John Reed, a relative, was the first Washington county clerk, and issued the license for the marriage of Abraham Lincoln's father and mother. The license is on file in the Washington county court house in Springfield.

Charges Compensation Jobs Filled On Political Basis

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Jan. 21.—Gov. George H. Earle today fixed Wednesday as the date for a public hearing on charges of State Sen. Anthony Cavalcante, Fayette Democrat, that the selection of unemployment compensation employees was being made on a political basis.

The governor stated that he would ask the senator to send him the names of all persons involved and a full report of the charges prior to the hearing.

"I want this to be a complete airing on Wednesday. I want the answers as well as the charges on that day. That's why I'm sending for the names of those involved and the charges beforehand."

Governor Earle's action resulted from Cavalcante's demand for a public hearing on his charges. He asserted that he has 25 dismissed employees of the unemployment compensation review board who tried for permanent positions to present as witnesses. Cavalcante charged specifically that:

(1) Some unemployment compensation posts were filled before the examination papers of applicants had been graded; (2) Democratic county chairmen have complete lists of all applicants taking the examinations and (3) Appointments have been made on the chairmen's recommendation.

Gospel Tabernacle Meetings To Close On Coming Sunday

Another of the missionary convention services will take place tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Christian and Missionary Alliance church on Pearson Street. Miss Janet Cuthbertson, of China, will speak.

The crowds have been growing at each service. The closing meetings will be on Sunday.

LETTERS TO THE NEWS

Letters intended for this column must be signed with name and address of writer.

The Hon. Fred L. Rentz, President of "The News Co."

New Castle, Pa.

My Dear Mr. Rentz:

In connection with the annual meeting of Trinity Parish I was asked to express to you the appreciation all of us feel for the many kindnesses shown the Church by you and all of the people of The News Company. We thank you, one and all—particularly for the generous amount of space given us for the English Boy Chorists.

Through the columns of "The News" many we thank all who helped in any way, both organizations and individuals, to make this international visit and good will tour the outstanding success it proved to be here. The boys, their director, and manager expressed themselves as greatly pleased with the consideration and courtesy given them in Lawrence County. The offering met our full share of the expense. All can be happy with the outcome. The co-operation of the President and Faculty of Westminster College on Friday is highly appreciated.

Hoping you may feel much better soon, with best wishes to you and yours.

Faithfully yours,

PHILIP C. PEARSON.

JAPAN PLANNING TO STRIKE AGAIN —KNICKERBOCKER

the aggressor as the western powers have been warned by Japanese spokesmen. Yet there are still optimists in the western world who refuse to believe what the Japanese tell them. Each new attack by the Japanese armed forces on western nationals reduces the number of western optimists, and even the implacably cheerful times of London now admits that "the incidents show that the Japanese crusaders are whether instinctively or deliberately bent on the extrusion of the white powers from China."

America, however, always buoyant, still leads perhaps in the number of persons resolved to believe the best and willing to accept the Tokyo foreign office's assurance that the Admiral Suetetsugu, minister of the interior and candidate for the premiership of Nippon, was wrongly quoted when he declared in a Japanese political review:

"Result Will Be Same"

"The commercial interests of the whites must disappear before the sun of the Nipponese mission. The yokes of the whites over the yellow must disappear. Of course a rapid emancipation will mean a general conflagration, but let there be no misunderstanding, the result will be the same, a general conflagration. So fate decrees."

Such a placid forecast of Japan's intention to make war by one of the men who, in the cabinet of the government, would be among those to decide to make war, brought pressing inquiries to the Tokyo foreign office.

"No," the foreign office declared with the simplicity of utter truth, "no, he did not say it." This method of denial staggers the newcomer to the east. Once during the Japanese press conference in Shanghai the question arose whether Japanese war planes were flying over the settlement in violation of law and their own agreement. The official Japanese spokesman said "no, they have not done so." Just then we heard low-flying planes. Everybody looked out the window, saw the Rising Sun of Japan on the wings of Bombers directly over our heads arched in the heart of the settlement.

"No," said the Japanese spokesman, "they are not Japanese, and if they were, they are not flying over the settlement."

"Lost Our Senses?"

Not a man cracked a smile, we simply wondered if we had lost our senses.

It is easy to dismiss the type of chauvinistic literature against the whites which constantly appear in Japan under titles like "the immminence of a Japano-American war" by Lieut. General Sato, or "An Anti-Japanese war is inevitable" by Lieut. Ishimaru, or "A Japano-American war is inevitable" by Mr. Ikezaki, or "Will Japan and the Soviet Union fight?" by Mr. Uehara, and finally even "Japan's war against the world," by anonymous patriots.

But what of the authenticated pronouncements of Japan's greatest leaders, beginning with the memorial submitted by Premier Tanaka to the emperor in 1927 and ending with this month's declaration by Admiral Suetetsugu, and all speaking the same language?

It is difficult to dismiss a program which, like Premier Tanaka's, has been carried out to date with the precision of a railway timetable. I have a copy of his famous memorial. In it he declares:

First Conquer China

"In order to conquer the world we must first conquer China. If we succeed in conquering China, the rest of the Asiatic countries and the South Seas will fear us and surrender. This is the plan left to us by Emperor Meiji, the success of which is essential to our national existence."

Ten years he named as the time required for the preliminary steps of conquering Manchuria and China, and today precisely ten years later, the Japanese armies are turning from their victories in China to ask:

"What next?"

Because it is less known, though equally important, the Honjo-Minami memorial to the emperor, submitted at the outset of the conquest of Manchuria in 1931, is even more interesting. It declares:

"We all agree that the revival of China, the rise of the Soviet Union, and the intrusion of the United States of America into the western Pacific are in fundamental conflict with the national policy of our empire."

Aimed At Russia

Happily this memorial proceeds to state that after the conquest of China:

"We must invade Siberia up to Lake Baikal and compel Russia to give up all the territory east of the Lena river so that the far eastern republic may be revived according to our direction. Thus the Sea of Japan and the Sea of Okhotsk will be entirely in our possession."

"Once free from any maritime attack on our north and west, our navy will be able to concentrate on the south and east. Having China and eastern Siberia with their rich resources under our control, our empire will be a first class power, secure and invulnerable, like a city of metal surrounded by water."

"It is safe to predict that after ten years of exploitation of such vast resources, the wealth of our empire can be compared favorably with that of the United States of America, all other nations failing a long way behind."

Drive Americans?

"With such financial power and material resources, our empire can easily maintain an army equal to that of Russia and China combined, and at the same time build a navy equal to that of England and America together."

"To hold the supremacy of the western Pacific, we need only drive the Americans to the east of Hawaii, and expel the English from Singapore."

"Not only China, but also the Dutch East Indies, Australia, and New Zealand will be accessible to us. Now Russia and China are still in the reconstruction stage, weak and divided. With our invincible army we can easily crush any opposition. But if we wait until China is fully unified under Chiang Kai Shek's ambitious plan, or until after the completion of Russia's economic program, the realization of our hopes may become impossible."

Japan did not wait for China to become strong. Will she wait for Russia? And do the realistic Bolsheviks intend to wait?

ACCIDENT VICTIM

LEAVES HOSPITAL

Robert Carlisle, of Sadsville, Ky., a telephone supervisor working out of the Cleveland, O., office, who suffered injuries two weeks ago, in an automobile accident on Route 422, west of the city, has recovered sufficiently to leave the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Graduate nurses numbering 201 and 3,045 midwives are registered on the books of the government of China.

Local Women Visit Disabled Veterans

Tour Through Aspinwall Hospital Made Yesterday By Auxiliary Ladies

A visit was paid to the veterans hospital at Aspinwall on Thursday afternoon by the Perry S. Gaston Auxiliary president of New Castle, Mrs. Eleanor Wilkins, and hospital chairman, Mrs. Anna Gerst, accompanied by Mrs. Lillian Falls, Mrs. Alice Cleaver and Mrs. Diana Sweet. There they conversed with over 50 veterans. The men, with all their afflictions, all had happy smiles for the visitors and cheery remarks. The chief doctor seemed to be crisscrossed and other card games and checkers. The ladies had the honor of being escorted through the wards by State Commander William Smith, West. Vice Commander Cyrus Wadell and Judge Advocate Dunt, who pointed out many cases of interest.

J. R. Clark of 369 East Washington street donated 150 magazines to the American Legion this week for disabled veterans, and the women took the donation with them and placed them in the Aspinwall hospital library.

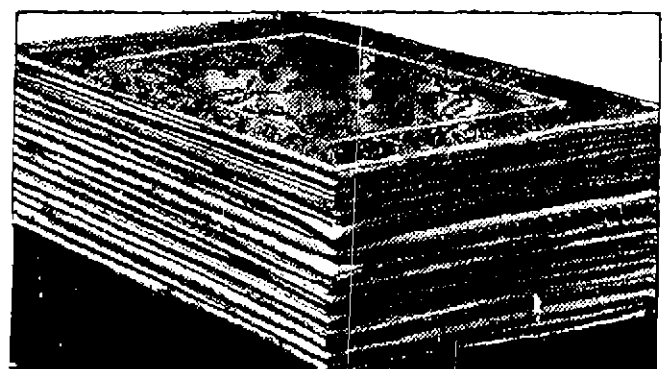

Another visit will be made by the auxiliary members in the future.

Major Culp Is Guest Speaker

Addresses Members Of Legion Of Honor And Travel Club At Cathedral

CONSISTORY HEADS WILL BE HONORED

Members of the Legion of Honor of the Valley of New Castle Consistory completed arrangements for the dinner which will be tendered the officers of the Valley of New Castle Consistory with other distinguished members of the Catholic hierarchy when they meet at the cathedral next Friday when they and their consistory will meet for the first time.

The meeting was started at 7 o'clock and most of the other business matters were held over until the next meeting, so that adjournment could be taken early, when the Legion of Honor was to meet. Members of the Pennsylvania Travel Club in the west dining room.

Major C. M. Culp, U. S. A., was the speaker of the evening, and gave a detailed description of the Battle of Gettysburg, which will be one of the centers of attraction for tourists during the coming year, in connection with the last reunion of the veterans of the Civil war, which is planned to bring together survivors from the North and South.

Dr. A. B. Foster, president of the New Castle Travel Club, outlined the purposes of the organization, which is to take at least five trips a year into sections of Pennsylvania, outside one's own county. He stated that the Pittsburgh Travel Club is planning a visit here on June 12.

Mrs. Frederick McComb, of Scranton, one of the state organizers of the Pennsylvania Travel Club, was also present and spoke of the fact that Pennsylvania has practically every kind of scenic grandeur which can be found in the United States, and many famous historical spots.

The officers of the club, Mrs. Katherine McEntire, vice president, and Mrs. R. Lay Boyd, were introduced, and those present at the meeting were invited to join. President Foster emphasized the fact that there are no dues or financial obligations, the purpose of the club being to advance Pennsylvania's importance among its own people.

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for January 23, is Mark 1:29-45, The Golden Text being Mark 1:34, "And he healed many that were sick.")

It is never far from the place of divine worship to the place of service to our fellowmen. So our lesson opens: "And straightway, when they were come out of the synagogue, they came into the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John. Now Simon's wife's mother lay sick of a fever; and straightway they tell him of her; and he came and took her by the hand, and raised her up, and the fever left her, and she ministered unto them." Are we telling the Good Physician of our sick and bringing him to them as did these early followers of our Lord? How promptly and effectively the Lord responds to such appeals of human need: "They tell him of her; and he came, and took her by the hand, and raised her up."

Authority Over Disease
In last Sunday's lesson there was displayed Jesus' authority in the realm of disease. Luke the physician tells us that it was "a great fever" with which Simon's wife's mother "was holden," and that Jesus "stood over her and rebuked the fever; and it left her." And the word Luke used here for "rebuked" is the same word he used to describe Jesus' exercise of authority over the evil spirit. This authority of Jesus in the realm of disease was displayed on a wider scale at sunset of that busy day, when "they brought unto him all that were sick, and them that were possessed with demons. And all the city was gathered together at the door. And he healed many that were sick with divers diseases, and cast out many demons; and he suffered not the demons to speak, because they knew him."

Source Of Authority
Jesus, walking among the rows of sick and afflicted brought to his door that evening, is the picture of the Good Physician meeting perfectly in a dying world's every need. That sunset marked "the end of a perfect day." How that day and every day of the Good Physician's busy life began, are told us next: "In the morning, a great while before day, he rose up and went out, and departed into a desert place, and there prayed." When his disciples found him, and gently chided him for this, as it must have seemed to them, waste of time from a busy day, saying, "All are seeking thee," he replied, "Let us go elsewhere into the next towns, that I may preach there also; for to this end came I forth." As much as to say, "I know it is to be a busy day, therefore I came forth here to pray." Prayer time is by no means wasted time to take time to pray is to save time for work and to multiply strength for work. The authority Jesus exercised in every realm was purchased by prayer. Our lack of it is explained in the words: "Ye have not because ye ask not. Ye ask and receive not, because ye ask amiss."

SUGGESTS UNION FOR ATTORNEYS
(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 21.—The condition of lawyers who have to "run trolley cars and beg for bread" was deplored before the Philadelphia Bar association by former Attorney General Francis Shunk Brown, S. C.

"The labor trades have combined for mutual benefit," he said in urging a "closed shop" for Philadelphia attorneys. "It is time the lawyers do so."

In response to his pleas a resolution was offered that a committee draft a plan for compulsory membership of all local attorneys in a single county bar association by former Ambassador Roland S. Morris.

Respite Given Six Condemned

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Jan. 21.—The State Board of Pardons today recommended respites until February 13 for six condemned convicts and committed to life imprisonment the sentence of a seventh.

Four of the slayers were to have come to the electric chair early next Monday morning. Frank Stelma of Northumberland county, received the commutation on evidence that he was drunk at the time his crime was committed.

After a six-hour executive session, the board recommended to Gov. George H. Earle that he issue stays of execution for:

Roy Lockard, Altoona, sentenced to die for the spite slaying of three-year-old Sonny Karmann.

John Polans and Joe Senauskas, Warren county, convicted of the "Alport Inn" murder of Metro Semluk.

Edward Rose, John Orszak, and

Theodore Dumlhak, all of Delaware county, sentenced to die for the slaying of Floyd Tranam, a Negro motorist.

Rumor Shortage Of CCC Funds

Asks Inquiry Into Rumor
That Their Is Shortage
Of $1,250,000

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Another bombshell was thrown before the senate public lands committee investigating alleged discrepancies in CCC funds today when Senator
Nye (R) of North Dakota, suggested to the committee that it inquire into rumors of a $1,250,000 shortage of funds.

Nye, who was absent, had Senator
Adams (D) of Colorado read the following statement before Major General Walter C. Reed of the war department, who was on the stand:
"I understand that the general accounting office is investigating shortage of CCC funds amounting to more than one million dollars in the southwestern part of the United States, and over $250,000 in the state of Kansas. Are you aware of this investigation and if so, please give the committee the facts."

What department or departments of the government are involved in these alleged shortages?
General Reed said he had no knowledge of the alleged investigation and shortage, and Adams

France To Have One Of Europe's Finest Airports

(International News Service)
PARIS—France's greatest airport,
Le Bourget, will be one of the finest in Europe when it is wholly completed.

An enlarged, more spacious building was recently opened by President Lebon but this is only a section of what it will eventually be and when completed the airport itself will measure two by one and one-half miles.

The present construction might be termed a vast hall with a section near the aerodrome running three stories high with a flat roof which can be used for a grandstand when the occasion necessitates.

Special Travelers' Accommodations
More than half of the hall is used by travelers, while the customs, statute handling, freight, weather control, wireless and administrative offices occupy the remainder.
A large restaurant is on the upper floor and beyond there will eventually be a hotel.

Shop selling everything that an air traveler might want are being established in the hall and more will be added as the building is enlarged.

The most scientific equipment now known like sunken sodium lamps for landing in fogs are being installed to make landing and taking off easier and safer. The latest type wireless beams and beacons are also in use.

A little liquid always should be added to leftover meats and vegetables when they are being reheated, either milk, water, gravy or saucers. Cover them tightly and allow them to heat at a low temperature until hot. If overcooked they will be dry and tasteless.

New Furniture Store Opening 9:30 Saturday

New Peoples Furniture Company Store At 343-345 East Washington Street

NEW STORE RANKS WITH BEST IN CITY

One of New Castle's finest and most modern furniture stores will be opened to the public on Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Officials of the Peoples Furniture Company, this afternoon, announced the grand opening of their new store at 343-345 East Washington street, a few yards away from the Pennsylvania railroad crossing. The store was formerly located at 101-103 South Jefferson street.

For the past several weeks, a corps of men has been busy engaged remodeling the spacious two-story building. The large rooms have been repaired extensively and are the last thing in completeness. The rest of the store has been arranged handsomely and crisscrossed with most elaborate store fronts in the business section of town. The offices have spared no expense in completing their new store.

Thousands of dollars worth of the latest and most modern furnishings have been placed in the new establishment. The rooms are filled with quality furniture, beautiful displays of up to date dining, living and bedroom suites. The merchandise is all nationally advertised and of the highest quality. Briefly, the store contains everything a modern home should contain.

At the head of the firm are two of New Castle's most prominent merchants, L. F. Cohen, a local businessman for the past 35 years, and Jacob Hirschman, a merchant in New Castle for the past 15 years. The local men own and manage the company. Mr. Cohen and Mr. Hirschman invite the populace of Lawrence county to attend the grand opening of their new store. At 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning, the doors will swing open to the general public. The store will be closed Saturday evening at 9 o'clock.

It was announced that souvenirs will be given during the day to those who attend the grand opening.

For a number of years the Peoples Furniture company was located at 101-103 South Jefferson street. Officials feel assured that they will now be able to serve the public even better than they have during past years.

Some time ago Mayor Charles E. McGrath indicated that should the state motor police not continue the plan of the old state police in training officers for municipal police work, a local school of instruction might be started. A school was conducted here by Lieutenant Keller of the state police. Later police were sent for training to Hershey. Since the motor police force was increased it has been said that the body was busy training their own men.

Daily requests come over the telephone machine at police headquarters from parents asking that search be made for some daughter or son. As a rule such requests receive action, and police keep an eye open for the possible appearance of some girl or boy who, becoming annoyed with the quiet of home life or in search of adventure, leaves their home and parents in sorrow. Every now and then some boy or girl is found and returned to their homes elsewhere.

Student Council Sponsors Dance

Student Council members at the senior high school are sponsoring a dance for the students this evening at the school.

Those in charge of the affair are as follows: general chairman, Doris Best; chairman of tickets, William Bissell; Ed. Capicola, Ed. Davenport, Ed. Brown, chairman of chaperons, Dorothy Maher; chairman of refreshments, John Henderson, Francis Gregor; hall duty, Samuel Day, David Schoenfeld.

EAST BROOK

M. E. CHURCH NOTES

Sunday morning, Jan. 24—Sabbath school at 10 o'clock. Junior Pink, superintendent. Preaching service at 11 o'clock, with the pastor, Rev. E. M. Pradenbragh, in charge. Epworth League at 7 p. m. when a special speaker will bring the message, and musical numbers will be a part of the program.

Mr. Omar Fink, Mrs. E. A. Ponsius, Mrs. Paul Wasserman and Miss Nancy Reichard attended the teachers' training course and dinner at the First M. E. church, New Castle, on Thursday evening.

ATTEND LOYALTY LUNCHEON

Mrs. Scott Kirk, Mrs. J. A. Young and Mrs. John Martin were in attendance at the Loyalty Luncheon held in the Third U. P. church, New Castle, on Tuesday afternoon. A program of W. C. T. U. work was presented in the afternoon.

HOME ECONOMICS MEETING

"School Lunches" will be the topic of discussion at a meeting to be held at 1:30 p. m. Monday, January 24, at the home of Mrs. Vane Joins in East Brook. Miss Mary Vogie, home economics worker for Lawrence county, will be in charge of the meeting. Anyone interested in the packing of lunches and food values is welcome to attend.

EAST BROOK NOTES

Mrs. Fred Miller is ill at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Patterson.

Mrs. James Young attended the funeral of Mrs. Joseph Martin of New Wilmington on Wednesday.

Mrs. Howard Waddington is improving at the New Castle hospital from an operation for appendicitis.

E. N. Borkes and Norman McGaslin attended the National Road Show held at Cleveland, O., on Tuesday.

J. A. Young and George Young moved to Harrisburg on Tuesday and are attending the Pennsylvania farm products show this week.

Mrs. A. J. Lakens had the misfortune to fall at her home Friday evening. She is confined to the Jameson Memorial hospital with a broken hip.

Mrs. John McGreary is spending several days at the home of her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Shelberger in New Wilmington. Her grandson, Donald, was struck by an auto in New Wilmington on Monday and has been a patient in the Jameson Memorial hospital. His condition is reported favorable.

Zionist Meeting Is Well Attended

Rabbi J. Epstein gave a history of Jewish Palestine at the Zionist meeting this week in Tifereth Israel synagogue on South Jefferson street, elaborating on the social and economic life of both Arab and Jewish populations.

Rabbi Pinchos Katz gave in English a resume of the talk, or "Twenty Years of Progress of the Land." Sam Edelman was chairman of the meeting. Remarks were made by L. Kohn, Dr. H. Frank, M. L. Samuels and L. Ruzewich.

The meeting was well attended by an enthusiastic crowd. The old officers of the Zionist district were re-elected by an unanimous vote of the membership. Plans are being arranged for the next cultural meeting, with a prominent speaker as guest.

Though the United States paid Panama $10,000,000 for the Canal Zone rights, it still pays an annual rental of $250,000.

Movies Don't Get All Stars

Big Industrial And Business Leaders Rival Robert Taylor's in Looks

GYPSY ROSE LEE NEARS FADE OUT

By O. O. McINTYRE
NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Thoughts while strolling: Why people sometimes turn to Communism—Elsa Maxwell's coming out party for Cole Porter's broken limbs just out of a cast. Cultural note: Gene Turner cries the correct "Brava" when women stars triumph at first nights.

Swell coiffure: Mrs. Dodge Sloane's Brunette Bob. Benchley's mustache looks bluish. Duluth sounds like a dove's coo and O. O. McIntyre Schenectady tearing a rag. Most radio commentators would profit studying the delivery of Bryan Field, of the race courses. Wide-eyed Martha Deane window snooping. Donald Duck's squawking sounds like Rae Dooley in that baby carriage scene in the Follies. Society's grocer: Eddie Reeves. Jules Brulato with featured head-urens would make a swell model for an Indian chief. The most publicized of the heiresses Gloria Baker. Democracy among the swells: Mrs. John Hay Whitney's nickname of Liz and her husband's of Jock. The astrological Myra Kingsley is almost a double for Ina Claire. Fay King, the self-effacing cartoon lady. Good ad for the hotel lobby—the well-fed looking Oscar. Memory: The string of red peppers on the kitchen wall. Dick Berlin can fatten up and thin down quicker than anything. One of these days some genius will begin writing the dalliance of New York as Pepsy did of London—and we will have a new and needed type of columnist.

Not all the handsome boys have been lassoed by the movies. The business world has its Robert Taylors. Conspicuous is Edward R. Stettinus, Jr., new head of the U. S. Steel corporation. Any producer would sign him for the Heart Interest. Thomas Watson, the industrialist, is the perfect type for the role he plays in real life—the commanding middle-aged figure in big business. Bruce Barton, if caught by the camera ten years ago, might have been cast with the reigning Garbo. John Baragwanath, mining engineer and husband of Neysa McMein, could make Adolphe Menjou sit up in one of those devil-may-care parts.

The dangers of over-exploitation were strikingly stressed in the skyrocketing career of the strip tease dancer, Gypsy Rose Lee. Out of burlesque beginnings she arose a headline topic discussed almost as much as any woman of her time save

Wally Simpson. From the continuous burlesque, she went like a shot to a featured role in the Winter Garden and from there to the inevitable Hollywood with gigantic three-sheeting. She was daily paragoned in the jottings from the west coast. Then somehow the publicity avalanche came to a full stop. She was asked to change her name. There were reports her contracts were not to be renewed. The clouds were gathering for that dreaded rumble of oblivion, "the thunders of silence."

New York friends of Anon Carter and O. B. Winter do not worry about marketing for holiday turkeys. Each year they are supplied by the Texas publisher and the advertising chief. Carter sends the smoked variety, which the top trenchermen rate as most expensive of cocktail hour tidbits. Winter raises his on his broad acres in Maryland. In a like manner Lee Owell remembers friends yearly with a brace of pheasants he kills himself. And then Major Bowes, who shares the bounty of his weekly radio food harvest among the friends of various hospitals. There is a special truck used only for such deliveries.

Those perky snack bars with modernistic fronts, circular counters and high short-backed chairs, French fashion, increase with the procession. I noticed one on lower Lexington called "Pleasure de la Concorde," which has the latest issues of Paris Midi and Excelsior on hand. Still another is tucked in the basement of an exclusive block on the Gold Coast. They seem to have only a cocktail hour and night-cap trade. Indeed the wrong people dropping in are discouraged.

Foot note of an ex-hero: I used to be one of those intrepid Ajaxes who, during a storm, stood smart aleck like at the open window laughing, ha, ha, when the lightning frolicked. But a few months ago I saw a bolt cleave a giant oak a quarter of a mile away in Central Park. Since then I won't even sneak a peek at a storm.

U. S. May Build Three Battleships Of Record Size

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—High naval officials have recommended to President Roosevelt construction of three of the world's largest and most formidable battleships under his projected record peacetime national defense program, it was learned today.

The program, if carried out, as appears probable, will mean definite abandonment of the 35,000-ton limit for capital ships imposed by the London naval treaty of 1936. Extensive conversations between the American and British governments over departure from the treaty limitations through invocation of the escalator of "escape" clause, have been proceeding in London.

In Excess Of 40,000 Tons. The new battleships, two of which are provided under the 1939 naval budget, would be in excess of 40,000 tons. A possibility exists that it may prove necessary to arm these vessels with 18-inch guns as it is known that Japan, in 1936, constructed an experimental 18-inch naval rifle.

Secret moves for larger battleships have been necessitated as a protective measure against Japan, which according to information reaching here, has begun construction or authorized four new battleships of a displacement said to range between 40,000 and 46,000 tons.

President Roosevelt has delayed sending his scheduled special message on national defense to congress pending receipt of a report from London on the battleship tonnage situation.

Japan Out Of Agreement. Under the 1936 treaty, the United States, Britain and France agreed to limit battleship size of 35,000 tons. Part of the agreement was a mutual exchange of information on warship building. Japan declined to adhere to this treaty after her demand for abolition of the 5-5-3 ratio to give her parity with America and Britain had been refused. She has since enshrined her naval plans in the utmost secrecy.

An "escape" clause of the treaty provides, however, that should a non-signatory nation such as Japan build battleships in excess of 35,000 tons, a signatory nation can do likewise on notification of such intention to the other signatories.

Slippery Rock Farmer Constructs Huge Potato Storage Cellar On Farm

In these days of low farm prices and general withdrawal of capital from agriculture, such interest is naturally aroused when a new industry is started or a potato grower is building a new modern storage.

Let "Tom" Denniston, of Slippery Rock, tell in his own words what is back of the venture in the construction of a new concrete 8,000-bushel capacity storage, modern to the minutest detail. Here is an interview printed in a Penn State Journal (Mr. Denniston incidentally is well known in New Castle and the father of a Milton street resident, Mrs. Oliver J. McNeese. He is known by farmers in many states as he specializes in certified potato seed, and has been in the business for a number of years).

"Why did you build it, and why at this time?"

"I needed it, and why not build at this time? You said last year that it takes a high spot on both sides to make a depression. I have confidence that farm prices will return to a higher level. In addition, this is a cheap time to build, as is evidenced by the fact that a 8,000-bushel storage was constructed for less than $2,000.

"I created jobs, at least in a small way, but jobs, nevertheless, for jobless men."

"I have always been impressed with the value of good seed and particularly good seed well stored. I consider my days of worrying over freezing, early sprouting and shrivelling, all of which reduce the quality and particularly the vitality of seed, to be over."

Mr. Denniston has 3,000 bushels of seed in this storage at the present time and reports it to be keeping in ideal condition. Securing seed annually from proven foundation seed sources for his own planting, Mr. Denniston will find the new storage an ideal place for temporary storage for this seed until planting time.

The general plan of the storage is with bins on either side of a driveway running the entire length of the storage. A packing and storage shed on the front will also house an electric plant and truck.

The walls were constructed of 8x16 inch concrete blocks, while the roof is of solid concrete, eight inches thick, covered by two and one-half feet of dirt. Steel eye beams, steel rails, and sheet metal were used for reinforcing. A natural dirt floor insures proper moisture for preventing the tubers from shrivelling, and aids in a constant temperature desirable for preserving the vitality of the tubers for seed.

"Tom" Denniston has many friends throughout Pennsylvania and in his neighboring state, Ohio. He has been recognized as an outstanding grower, and has been capable of sensing out the needs of the industry. As he stated above, he is a firm believer in good seed, as well as proper spraying and cultural methods. He has qualified for the "400 Bushel Club" six different times and holds the record yield in Pennsylvania west of the Alleghenies with a yield of 5473 bushels made in 1927.

PULASKI

MISSIONARY MEETING

The Women's Missionary Society, of the Presbyterian church, met at the manse on Wednesday for their regular meeting. At noon dinner was served.

Devotionals were led by Mrs. L. L. Rodgers. The business was in charge of the president, Mrs. Dora Coven. There were fifteen ladies responded to roll call. The following ladies were appointed on the nominating committee: Mrs. J. P. Buchanan, Mrs. John Neal and Mrs. Paul McClenahan.

An interesting program was given with the following taking part: A duet by Mrs. J. P. Buchanan and Mrs. John Neal; a reading by Mrs. Robert Garrett, Mrs. L. L. Rodgers and Mrs. Buchanan on "China," "The Forgotten Man" was given by Mrs. Lloyd Mitchell; Mrs. Charles Garrett reviewed part of the book, "Rebuilding Rural America."

PULASKI NOTES

Helen McClenahan is confined to her home by illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Jones were New Castle visitors on Tuesday.

Mrs. George Lottetter is spending a few days with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Wetmore of New Castle.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Adams and Charles F. Cover of Ellwood City, were callers of the latter's mother, Mrs. Dora Cover, recently.

New Prison At Mt. Gretna, Pa.

Federal Approval Given For New Prison And New State Industrial School

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 21.—Two more big projects on the general state authority's $55,000,000 construction program—a maximum security prison at Mt. Gretna and a state industrial school for boys at White Hill—bore Federal PWA authorities approval today.

Col. Augustine S. Janeway, executive director of the authority, said federal authorities of the two big projects completes the program submitted to Washington authorities.

The construction of the industrial school for boys at White Hill calls for the expenditure of $2,500,000 while $2,000,000 is to be expended in building a Pennsylvania "Alcatraz"—at Mt. Gretna, where hardened criminals are to be housed.

New Electric Chair

The new prison is to be constructed on the site of the former National Guard reservation and, officials said, will be one of the most modern prisons of its kind in the nation. It is planned to move the state's electrical chair, where murderers are put to death, to the new prison. The electric chair is now located at Rockview penitentiary, Bellefonte.

Janeway said PWA has agreed to contribute outright grants of $424,000 for the White Hill project, and $381,000 for the prison construction.

MAKE OWN PICTURES

Original greeting cards and etchings are being made by clever people on celluloid and from the celluloid transferred to paper. Mrs. Florence A. Goodwin recently demonstrated the technique in New York City. Pacific coast artist was the inventor of the method which allows the person with creative ability to make the most original and delightful greeting cards and etchings.

From Hollywood comes suggestions for a costume party. Richard "Red" Skelton solved the problem of a mandarin headress by wearing a square electric stove as a hat, with the long cord braided into a pigtail. An eyebrow pencil marked, arched eyebrows and drooping mustaches. Silk stockings and socks supplied skull caps and queues for the men, and patterns and small jackets were combined for costumes.

Suspected Bank Robbers Held In West Virginia

Two Suspects In South Charleston Bank Robbery To Be Viewed

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 21.—Two persons were held today following their arrest as suspects in the $38,800 hold-up of the East National Bank at South Charleston, near here.

The men, Lloyd Baker and Reginald A. Furber, were scheduled for a showing on the bank robbery charges today. They were arrested near Charleston by state police while carrying a tire on an automobile bearing Michigan license plates.

The car in which the holdup men escaped bore Michigan license plates.

Capt. Mack B. Strangle of the state police said Baker and Furber admitted being in Charleston on the day of the robbery.

Final check of the bank's loss revealed that $38,800 was stolen when three men walked into the bank Wednesday and threatened a cashier and three customers with a sawed-off shotgun.

EMPLOYERS TOLD SOCIAL SECURITY TAX PAY SET-UP

Employers and employees alike will pay just one per cent to the federal government's social security fund in 1938 and 1939, as they did in 1937, it was stressed here today.

Confused employers kept telephone ringing today in federal and state offices here, seeking authoritative information. Many are confusing their federal social security payment with Pennsylvania's new unemployment compensation payments.

The required federal social security payments of employers and employees will be:

One per cent in 1937, 1938 and 1939.

One and one-half per cent in 1940, 1941 and 1942.

Two per cent in 1943, 1944 and 1945.

Two and one-half per cent in 1946, 1947 and 1948.

After December 31, 1948, three per cent will be paid, and no more than three per cent.

DR. BENNETT IS HONORARY HEAD OF DAD-SON FETE

Pastor Accepts Appointment;
Committees Named And
Date Set

Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, today accepted the honorary chairmanship of the Dad-Son community fathers and sons banquet to be held on Thursday evening, February 24, at the Hotel Hamilton.

Dr. Bennett, who will be chairman of the active committees, said that the banquet will be a success if all the fathers and sons of the community will work out plans for the affair.

The committees are: Program, Daniel H. Treman, Jr.; Joseph R. McPhee and Alfred H. Owens; tickets, Charles A. Clark; food, Glenn McCracken, Fred Leach, Frank Clark, Robert Cole, Robert House, Lyman Gerould, Dean M. Staley and Arthur Alexander; transportation for youngsters, Alice Kammels and John P. Bogles; publicity, A. Bruce Evans; and dinner arrangements, Don Thompson and Laurel.

Lotteries To End In Beaver County

District Attorney Says "Bank Nights", Bingo, Refund Schemes, Etc., Must Be Eliminated

BEAVER, Pa., Jan. 21.—"Bank nights" were outlawed in Beaver county today by District Attorney Robert D. McCreary.

After February 7, he announced, the Pennsylvania gambling laws will be strictly enforced; the only exception being the sale of lottery tickets.

Stop Getting Up Nights—Cure Weak Kidneys
Do not let weak kidneys—burning sensation—getting up nights—annoy you any longer. PROCON Tablets will neutralize the acids of the kidney and bladder and stop that irritation. Take only one bottle of PROCON and notice the improvement. You will feel better and sleep better. The poisons of your bladder will be eliminated.

receptions being affairs run by firemen, churches and for charity, with no cash prizes.

Included in the ban are bingo games, drug store refund schemes, merchandise promotion lotteries and the like. However, the district attorney said he would not "for the present" interfere with suit, matinee and blanket clubs.

McCreary denounced bank nights as "another gambling institution which is being imposed on the people by outside owners of copyrighted, protected schemes of promotion."

"Bank nights had found its way into drug stores and other legitimate establishments, in most cases as a matter of self-defense. It is a nuisance to merchants, and so that all may compete on the same basis, the law against these schemes will be enforced."

He said he selected February 7 as the effective date of his order to give everybody a chance to get out from under. Thereafter, arrests will be made, he said.

Former Local Man Gets Advancement At Radio Station

William Jones, former New Castle resident, who some time ago moved to Hagerstown, Md., where he accepted a position with the radio station, WJED, in that city, is now in New Castle for a few days visiting with relatives and friends.

It is learned that a short time ago, Jones was given the appointment of assistant radio engineer at the Hagerstown station. While in New Castle, Jones was well known in the radio amateur field, owning a transmitter station with the call letters, W6ELR. His wide range of information and knowledge of radio work brought along his rapid promotion at WJED.

Student Contest At Ward School

Two Teams Vie For High Honors In Mahoning School Contest Plan

Students at the Mahoning Junior High school, have entered in a contest by which the school library and athletic departments are benefited.

Two teams have been formed by the students, under the supervision of George Bauman and Austin Croomer, instructors at the school. Captains for the two teams are Bobbie Casner and Betty Stritzinger.

It is the idea of the students to sell a number of magazines in the ward district. Half of the profit from the sale is given to the school for the benefit of the two above named departments.

Teachers-Officers Conduct Meeting

Plans For Presbyterian Sunday School Are Discussed At Meeting

Teachers and officers from the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, held a meeting Thursday evening, in the home of W. F. McClurg, on Fourth street.

Superintendent Arthur H. Walker, was in charge of the business period. Many plans and ideas were discussed at the meeting. It was decided to use the new graded lesson sheets in the adult department of the Sunday school.

A plan was accepted to change the order of procedure in the school service. An attendance contest will be started on Sunday, February 6, and will continue until Easter Sunday.

Discussion was heard on a number of special features for the men of the church. A committee was appointed for this matter to complete the arrangements and report at the next meeting.

Mrs. W. F. McClurg, aided by Miss Jean Hamilton, served a delicious luncheon. Next meeting of the group will be held in the home of Mrs. H. E. Alexander, on Cherry street, Tuesday, February 8.

Dodgers Are Not Anxious To Sell Van Lingle Mungo

Cubs, Cards And Pirates Are Bidding High For Fire-Ball Artist

McPhail Will Study Idea Of Playing Night Ball In Brooklyn

By DAVIS J. WALSH

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—In the first place, Van Lingle Mungo won't be sold. The Chicago Cubs, through Clarence Rowland, have been trying to "buy" him by balancing equal player-union and forfeiting the importance of commercial value in the second place, the club is only 60 per cent in favor of night baseball at Ebbets Field.

That was the reaction today of Larry Mac Phail, the new general manager of the Brooklyn properties in the National League, to the job created for him by special pact yesterday. He's supposed to make some out of chaos and dividends out of deficits. They're going to pay him $30,000 a year for three years. That takes him over into 1941, by that time, he'll enter into the spirit of the job and take another himself, nor has employers too seriously.

"Right now," says he, "Mungo isn't for sale to anybody. The Chicago Cubs have been doing business for him through Clarence Rowland, whose experience has been strictly of the ball field, though umpire and manager. He kept it up to strike a balance through player values. But do not realize the difference in commercial values in Mungo between the Chicago and Brooklyn clubs. He could win 22 games for us and probably we'd still push in the second division. If he did that for the Cubs, they'd win the pennant and wind up in the world series."

Night baseball? This last talking young man, who pokes out all his points with the index finger and started the night game in Cincinnati with a surprising profit to all concerned, wasn't quite sure about night baseball in the metropolitan center, why?

"People have a lot of things to do around New York at night," says he. "I'll have to study that and a little more around Cincinnati, that's different. I'm 100 percent for seven games of night baseball there. Sooner or later, they'll all come to it—for seven games a season. Right now, I'm just starting enough to figure that I'll have to have sufficient trouble with 154 games in the day time."

And knowing the Brooklyn Dodgers as I do, I can't help but agree.

ST. NICK GIRLS WIN

The St. Nicholas church girls basketball team won from the K. Pulaski girls last night at the K. P. hall 28 to 12. Miss Polonick, Miss Uman, Miss Tibish and Miss Pele were the stars of the game.

Expect "Susie" To Score High

RALPH GILLILAND

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 21.—Coach Washburn will depend on a "home-town boy" Ralph "Susie" Gilliland Saturday night, to help pile up enough points to defeat the Akron U. Zippers, who last year defeated the Titans 23-22 on their own floor.

Gilliland, usually the most deadly shot on the Titan team, has been out for two games, since scoring high-point honors against Slippery Rock with 17 points and is due for a scoring spree. Gilliland's shots are accurate in that he requires no arch and shoots with speed and accuracy.

The Akron-Westminster game is called for 8 o'clock Saturday night January 22, in the Titan gym.

Akron Cagers Battle Titans

Game To Be Played At Westminster Floor On Saturday Night

NEW WILMINGTON Jan. 21.—With only one loss in four years on their home floor, the Westminster Titans meet the Akron U. cagers Saturday night January 22, at their toughest home game of the season. Last year at Akron, the Ohioans defeated Westminster 32-22.

Coach Paul Bixler's Zippers will be a rugged, rangy bunch of cagers, seven towering above six feet. Akron's defending John Lawler's Penn State leads the conference with two games won and Pitt and Georgetown are deadlocked for second place, each having won a game. Pitt and Georgetown play at Pitt stadium tonight.

A late attack by Villanova, put Dugan on the wrong side of the scoreboard, 33 to 32, at Pittsburgh last night. The Titans apparently had the game won in the first three quarters but lagged in the final drive and the dash by Villanova brought victory. Forney led the Titans with 13 points while Dugan led the visitors with 10 points. Villanova led 19 to 17 at the half.

YOUNGER BOYS PLAY SATURDAY

The Younger Boys basketball league at the "Y" will go back into action on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock with the playing of two fast games. In the first battle the Younger Middle meet the Junior A. Gray-Y team and in the second game the Central Irish team meets the Franklin Gray-Y club.

MAHONING PLAYS SHARON QUINTET

Mahoning Junior High basketball team will play the last Sharon Junior High team at the Franklin Gray-Y floor this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Coach Austin Coward hopes to have the Seventh Warders in a winning mood today. The Sharon team is one of the best in the district.

Swimming To New Orleans, But 'Y' Pool Is The Place

New Orleans-bound, a half dozen boys, determined Y. M. C. A. boys here are swimming their way to that Louisiana metropolis—in the pool of the "Y."

Novel to say the least, the association is sponsoring the swim among those in its senior division to draw attention to the health-building qualities of swimming.

When a boy negotiates the 60-foot pool he is credited with a mile—and Herman Kitchen now is 25 miles on the way and young Robert Meermans is 30 miles from New Castle. Four others are trailing them, but plugging right forward.

"We'll have 30 in the race before it's over," said an officer of the "Y."

No swimmer can earn more than 10 miles in any one day. The distance to New Orleans is estimated at 1,500 miles, and the goal of all the young swimmers is to arrive there first.

Farr Favored To Defeat Braddock Tonight In New York Garden Arena

By DAVIS J. WALSH

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—With a touch of public gusto, surprising in the fact that the principals are just a little on the blousy side like a couple of veteran soubrettes, Madison Square Garden tonight is to help pile up enough points to defeat the Akron U. Zippers, who last year defeated the Titans 23-22 on their own floor.

Gilliland, usually the most deadly shot on the Titan team, has been out for two games, since scoring high-point honors against Slippery Rock with 17 points and is due for a scoring spree. Gilliland's shots are accurate in that he requires no arch and shoots with speed and accuracy.

Keystone Team Finally Halted

Rochester Barnetts Hang 41 To 30 Defeat On Keys At Monaca Floor

All good things must come to an end sometime and last night saw the "waterloo" for the Keystone A. C. team of this city in the Beaver Valley, when Rochester Barnetts hung a 41 to 30 defeat on the locals for the first league setback suffered by the Vendito coached machine.

The setback puts the Keys and Rochester in a deadlock for first place.

The Keys were off to a slow start and trailed at the half 24 to 8. In the third period the locals picked up a semblance of steam and led by Captain Paul Morrison piled in a flock of field goals to only trail 28 to 24 at the period closed.

The smooth working Rochester team took command again in the fourth period, to pile up a big lead.

Morrison Stars

Captain Paul Morrison was the shining light in the Keystone attack, this former Union High star getting 15 of the Keys points. Nick Genocoff played a grand floor game. Kelley had a tough night and missed the hoops, conditionally. He did manage to get five points.

For the Rochester, the work of Hamer, Earl and DeCien was by far the best seen this year by the Keys, with Marcondia playing a fine guarding game and getting six points.

Will Play Here

The Rochester team will be hard to beat from here in, and will give all of the teams a tough battle. They will play here later in the season. The Keys hope for revenge.

Is Irregular

Early Small Losses Are Recovered In Trading During Morning

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—The stock market was mixed today. Prices were down in early dealings, after which an irregular recovery followed, wiping out most of the losses and substituting a considerable number of gains.

U. S. Steel recovered most of a point loss. Bethlehem worked above the previous close. Most auto shares were under some pressure, though losses were cut down. Nash dropped more than a point.

U. S. Rubber rose a point. Allied advanced over a point in chemicals while DuPont slipped on a point loss. Rails lacked uniformly in trend.

Coppers were under pressure. International Nickel was a firm exception. Utilities gave ground. Most farm implements were higher and building shares mixed. Gold mines eased. Douglas led aviation up with a point advance. American Can and Philip Morris were up sharply in higher-priced groups. Oil was mostly better, while Owens Glass was down around 2 points at one time.
